Naval Board of Inquiry to Probe Wreck of Seven Ships

DEATH JURY ASKS PROBE INTO CRASH

Parents of James Armstrong Refuse to Prosecute G. D. Redenbaugh

THE jury empanelled to investigate the death of James Armstrong, 23, 682 East Thirty-fifth place, Los Angeles, who died following a collision between the car in which he was riding with Gervais D. Redenbaugh, 539 West Forty-first street, Los Angeles, and a car driven by H. V. Moore, 1057 Raymond avenue, Glendale, brought in a verdict this morning that Armstrong came to his death as the result of injuries sustained in a collision between the car driven by Redenbaugh and the car driven by Mr. Moore, and they recommended that the affair be further investigated by the district attorney of Los Angeles county.

The inquest was conducted at the Jewel City Undertaking company's establishment at 202 North Brand boulevard by William A. Macdonald, chief deputy coroner, and Redenbaugh, who has been held by the Glendale police on several charges as well as suspicion of manslaughter, was represented by Attorney Earl Curtis Peck, 503 California building, Los Angeles, who refused to permit his client to take the witness stand.

Skull Was Fractured

Testimony was introduced that the autopsy conducted by Dr. Frank R. Webb of Los Angeles revealed that Armstrong met his death as a result of a basal fracture of the skull, and other witnesses described the accident as it occurred at the intersection of North Central and Lexington drive, shortly after midnight on Saturday, September 8. Mr. Moore, the driver of the other car, stated that he had been traveling at a rate of between twelv aend fifteen miles an hour as he approached the crossing and that he had attempted to avoid the crash by accelerating his speed, but was unable to clear the car driven by Redenbaugh before the collision came.

Officers and others who investigated the case after the crash testified, and Attorney Peck brought out testimony that was favorable to his client, claiming that Redenbaugh was a member of the crowd that rendered aid to Armstrong after the smash.

The Coroner's jury consisted of the following: J. R. Clapp, 112 North Brand boulevard, L. P. Tronsier, 117 East Broadway; Carl E. Nelson, 124 North Brand boulevard; W. J. Schick, 108 South Maryland avenue; Lester Morrison, 103 West Broadway;

KOBE RESEMBLES CITY BACK OF BATTLEFRONT, BEING MADE CENTRAL JAPAN RESCUE POINT

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service

KOBE, Japan, Sept. 11.—Resembling a city just back of the battlefront, Kobe today is the central rescue point of the earthquake and fire victims of Yokohama, Japan's principal seaport. Hundreds of refugees are arriving here daily from the devastated sections and are being temporarily housed and clothed.

EDNA LEE BOOKER

The seriously injured are being carefully borne through the streets, principally by American sailors from units of the Asiatic fleet, and taken to the beautiful Oriental hotel, the spacious ballroom of which has been turned into a hospital, with beds and all necessary equipment.

At dawn today a relief ship arrived from Yokohama, having on board 100 Americans uninjured. The same vessel carried forty-five other injured foreigners, who were quartered in various hospitals throughout the city. The task of receiving the injured and distributing them is being expedited by Red Cross workers. Ambulances are parked near the docks and no time is lost in making the injured and destitute comfortable.

Of approximately 4000 victims of all nationalities, but not including Japanese, now taking refuge in Kobe, two-thirds of the injured are Chinese. British injured are second in number and Americans third.

Relatives in the United States of families and friends in Japan are urged by home ministry officials and American rescue workers not to lose hope for the safety of members of their families and friends as the survivors are being widely scattered over Kobe and adjacent towns. They point out that many Americans, previously listed as missing, are now being located.

There are daily processions, both by train and ships from this city to Yokohama carrying foodstuffs and other relief for the destitute who still remain in the stricken city.

NEW REPARATIONS NOTE IS EXPECTED

Proposals Will Announce Passive Resistance at End in Ruhr

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The German charges d'affaires in Paris and Brussels are expected to transmit a new reparations proposal this week, possibly tonight, according to the newspaper L'Oeuvre this afternoon.

It is believed that the new German note will contain new proposals and will announce cessation of passive resistance against Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr.

Up to noon there was no official confirmation of the Central News report out of Berlin Monday that the German government already had ordered the German populations of the occupied regions in the Rhineland and Ruhr to end passive resistance.

STRONG BOX FOILS AMATEUR BURGLAR

Second Attempt Made to Rob Creamery Plant Is Reported

A persistent burglar last night made the second attempt within a month to get into the safe in the office at 731 Porter street of the Calla Lily creamery.

In each case he was frightened away after he had broken the knob off the dial and before he had succeeded in getting the door open. In each case he would have obtained the dairy's receipts for several days' business.

R. L. Gerber of 135 North Avenue 18, Los Angeles, cashier for the Calla Lily creamery, reported for work at 8 o'clock this morning and was astounded to find that the safe knob had been knocked off and was lying on the floor. Nearby were lengths of wire which would have been used to pick the lock had the opportunity permitted. How the burglar happened to be frightened away is unknown.

E. Paggi, manager of the creamery, is of the opinion that the person endeavoring to get into the safe has been timing his operations so that it would contain more than one day's receipts. When the burglary was attempted Sunday night, August 19, the safe contained about $1600 in cash. Receipts had not been taken to the bank Saturday, and yesterday being a bank holiday resulted in the amount of cash in the safe last night amounting to over $2600.

Mr. Paggi is making plans to give the burglar a warm reception upon his third visit.

Wise Men on Mt. Wilson Get 'Eye' Full of Sunshine

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Three wise men, their eyes to their gigantic telescope at the Mount Wilson observatory, largest in the world, were lifted from scientific depression to intense exhilaration in five minutes yesterday shortly before the total eclipse of the sun, it was revealed today. At 12:27 p. m. clouds swooped upon Mt. Wilson, site of the great observatory.

The wise men were cast down. But, at 12:32 p. m. a sea breeze dispersed the clouds and complete success of their observations is expected, when thousands of negatives that have been exposed are developed.

Capricious Clouds Spoil Eclipse Films

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 11.—"The clouds rose too high for us. Our plane reached the ceiling beyond which its power would not lift us. Here and there we saw what appeared to be holes in the altocumulus clouds above, but when we headed towards them they closed up and disappeared like mirage oases on the desert."

It was thus that Lieutenant John A. Macready, famous non-stop trans-continental pilot, today described his four-mile high flight with Captain A. W. Stevens, head of the army air service photograph division, in an effort to film the total solar eclipse yesterday.

The clouds were so dense, he said, during the ascent that running into the moisture at high speed caused it to coalesce to the extent that the plane dripped water almost in streams.

The army and navy air stations here sent many planes alofst with orders to ascend above the clouds for photographs at widely separated aerial stations. Capricious weather spoiled the elaborate plans, however.

Lieutenant Carpentier and Photographer St. Jacques took what is believed will prove to be excellent motion pictures of the eclipse through a thin cloud mist. They also photographed the passage of the shadow on the ground. From the latter plates astronomers will be able exactly to check their calculations of the shadow area and possibly correct future figures.

All the data collected and photographic plates are today being sent to Washington.

Child's Damage Suit For $20,000 Starts

SAN JOSE, Sept. 11.—Trial of the $20,000 damage suit brought by 5-year-old Evelyn Correia of Evergreen through her mother, Cecil Correia, against Frank Francis for injuries received by the little girl when her face was burned by nitric acid which she found in a drawer in Francis' room while he was a guest at the Correia home last November has opened in the superior court here.

Horsewoman Proves Heroine At Yokohama; Outwits Armed Pillagers

SHANGHAI, Sept. 11.—Among the 137 refugees from Japan who arrived here on the Canadian Pacific Empress of Canada, probably the most outstanding miraculous escape from death, not alone from consequences of the earthquake and fire, but from Korean looters, was that of Miss Billy Coutts, prominent American society girl and known as the best horsewoman in China.

Miss Coutts, calm and without fear, recited for International News Service today her thrilling experiences in her escape from Tokio.

"With Mrs. William McBain and her little niece, Jean Curry, I was stopping at Zushi, a summer resort, not far from Tokio, when the earthquake came.

Flee In Negligee

"We were in negligee and, rushing to the street, were horror-stricken at the sight of people being buried beneath tumbling houses. The entire countryside, in a moment, was topsy-turvy.

"Half dressed, we began walking toward Yokohama, eighteen miles distant, with the baby and pet bull dog.

"En route we encountered pillaging bands of Koreans and Japanese, armed with long, glittering knives and clubs, demanding the possessions of all who had valuables. Several Japanese who resisted the bands were killed.

Fear for Lives

"In a half ruined house we sought temporary refuge after a particularly heavy earth shock precipitated us to the ground. An armed band of pillagers entered and, thinking it was the end, we kissed each other goodbye. They left, however, shortly afterwards, after being assured we had nothing of value in our possession.

"Arriving in Yokohama, the scene resembled a Pompeian ruins. Intense blackness, occasionally lighted by the flaring of a fire, appeared in all directions.

"Great fissures opened in the earth, destroying the sidewalks and streets, and struggling fig-

DESTROYERS GRIPPED IN DEVIL'S JAW

Rescue Efforts Being Made Today to Locate 22 Missing Sailors

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 11.—An official board of inquiry composed of Rear Admiral W. V. Pratt, commander of the fourth division of the battle fleet, senior member; Captain George C. Day, commander of the Pacific submarine division, and Captain David C. Sellers, of the naval training station at San Diego, is today investigating the naval tragedy in which seven United States destroyers crashed on the sharp reefs two miles from Point Arguello, in a dense fog Saturday night.

The naval probe board was appointed by Admiral S. S. Robinson, commander of the battle fleet, now stationed in San Francisco harbor. Admiral E. W. Kittelle, commander of the destroyer division, was named by Admiral Robinson to appoint a judge-advocate to complete the official investigating body.

List of Missing

One identified dead, 22 missing and believed dead, and 13 injured is the toll taken when the fleet destroyers Young, Chauncey, Delphy, Fuller, Nicholas, S. P. Lee and Woodbury piled on the rocks, known as the "Devil's jaw," 75 miles north of here.

All officers and men of the destroyers S. P. Lee, Chauncey, Fuller, Woodbury and Nicholas have been accounted for. Those lost are of the personnel of the Young and Delphy.

The dead:

W. A. Conroy, fireman, first-class, Delphy.

Twenty-one seamen from the Young, which turned on her side almost immediately after striking the rocks, are missing and believed to have met death in the hull of the vessel. One is missing from the Delphy.

List of Injured

Thirteen are patients at the Cottage hospital here and are being treated for more or less serious injuries. Among the injured are:

Harry Krauss, Delphy, St.

Lieut. Georges Le Mesnager, Brave Soldier of France, Who Resided Here, Dies

Aged Fighter Who Won Spurs and Was Made Member Of Honor Legion During World War, Passes Away In Native City

LIEUT. GEORGES LE MESNAGER of the French army, hero of the Franco-Prussian and World wars, and for many years a resident of Glendale, is dead in his native town of Mayenne, France, at the age of 79, after a lifetime of unparalleled adventure. With the stricken warrior of Verdun and vineyard keeper of the Verdugo hills, at the end, were his wife and a daughter, Mlle. Anne Le Mesnager. A son, Louis Le Mesnager, lives in Glendale, and another daughter was recently married in Chicago.

Lieut. Le Mesnager was a pioneer to southern California, having come here in 1866. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out in 1870, he immediately attached himself to the cause of the Tricolor and served throughout that disastrous war as a private.

Buys Vineyard Here

Returning here after the declaration of peace, he later bought a vineyard in Verdugo Canyon, where he lived with his family until the fresh outbreak of hostilities between France and Germany in 1914—when, with that indomitable spirit of patriotism that pervades the French temperament, he once more returned to his native land to serve under the Tricolor.

But Georges Le Mesnager was 70 years old then, so the French officers laughed at his offer to serve them. Gritting his teeth, the brave old warrior went with his comrades to the front as a private in the ranks, strong with the health he had found in long walks over his vineyards and through the Verdugo hills.

In Terrific Battles

There, with the famous 106th infantry, a regiment General Petain later commanded as the bravest in the French armies, Poilu Le Mesnager served through some of the most terrific of the engagements, being one of 6000 at Verdun, in the tunnel near Vaux, to hold 60,000 of the German horde for eight days, thus ending the dream of the Crown Prince to eat his Christmas dinner in Paris.

Le Mesnager was also in the battle of Calonne, the battle of St. Hilaire, at Peronne and on the Somme, seeing service also at Avesne, Maurepas and Chemin des Dames. Thrown fifty feet by a high explosive shell and hurled against a tree, at Calonne, Le Mesnager was given a furlough back to the United States in 1916.

Wins Honor and Rank

Through the French embassy at Washington, his remarkable exploits were called to the attention of French headquarters, and he was recommended for promotion and honor. The result was that in 1917 he returned to the front, with the rank of lieutenant and wearing the Croix de Guerre, where he was assigned to the headquarters of General Pershing as liaison officer for the French army, a post he filled until the armistice.

Returning again to his adopted country in 1919, Lieutenant Le Mesnager once more retired to his Glendale vineyard. Through the French consul in Los Angeles, he was sought out and his heroism rewarded by presentation of the medal of the Legion of Honor.

In 1921, due to war wounds, the intrepid soldier suffered a stroke of apoplexy. In 1922, a second stroke left him partially paralyzed. It was then that his wife took him back to his beloved France, thinking that a change might prolong his life.

Time and battle, however, had laid heavy hands on the brave old warrior, and his life closed as it began, in the little village of his birth, Mayenne, France.

Whether Lieut. George Le Mesnager, spirit of indomitable France, will be buried under the crimson poppies of his homeland, or will be brought back to rest beneath the orange poppies of the Californian south, has not yet been learned.

MORE PUPILS THAN EVER REGISTER

At Least Indications Early In Afternoon Would Set New High Record

INDICATIONS that enrollment in Glendale Union high school this semester will be greater than a year ago were noted by Principal George U. Moyse this afternoon as the flood of freshmen and sophomores followed the seniors and juniors who arrived in the morning.

In 1922 the opening of school found 1528 pupils attending. By the close of the year 1915 had been enrolled. Because of the load thrown on Glendale by the Los Angeles board of education it is believed that close to 2000 young people will enter the local institution of higher learning.

Totals Tomorrow

Owing to the fact that upper and lower class students are being registered at different times, no exact enrollment figures were available this morning. Immediately following the final registration this afternoon, however, the enrollment cards will be segregated into classes and counted. This will not only give the total for the entire student body but the number of pupils in each class.

The absence of confusion is one of the characteristics of this enrollment day. This is due partly to the fact that registration tables have been placed upon the lawn instead of in the halls and class rooms as previously.

The enrollment procedure has been worked out in the most complete detail possible by vice-principals Mrs. George U. Moyse and A. L. Ferguson and this morning was working very efficiently and satisfactorily.

Arranging Programs

No students are being allowed to register for more than four subjects in addition to physical education without special permission. No programs are being approved which does not include physical education.

The "big idea" which prevades the minds of 99 per cent of the students today, is to get their programs arranged so they either do not have to come for the first period in the morning or may leave before the commencement of the last period. This action is being permitted wherever possible. In a few cases mixed sessions will be necessary, as when upper class students desire to take lower class subjects or vice-versa. Special permission is necessary.

Students who are entering from other high schools are not being permitted to do more than present their credit certificates. These will be examined tonight and these pupils will be notified of their class standing in the morning.

Gates of Learning Open To Throngs of Students

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff

THE doors of the "little red school house" opened at an early hour this morning on school activities for all freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors and faculty members enrolled during the day for the fall semester at the Glendale high school.

A misty fog greeted the early risers in Glendale this morning and as Mary and John, Mae and Sue wended their way to the Harvard street school their dampened spirits but added to their regretful adieux to the summer time.

Riot of Styles

All streets led to the high school and in the youthful throng that sauntered from the east and west, north and south, one saw a futuristic riot of emotions, styles and color.

This afternoon there were the hopeful, but verdant freshmen with their intermediate school report cards, scratch pads and pencils tightly grasped in their hands, some braving their debut into high school circles alone, others in groups, while the more backward ones brought fond parents along or adopted big brothers and sisters.

With a whole year's confidence came the sophomores—a bit loath to leave vacation pleasures, but anxious to get back to school and take their place on the social scale, just one step above their frosh brothers.

All Ready for Work

Earlier in the day and tarrying along the way to greet old friends and reminisce about vacation fun, were self-satisfied juniors and seniors, bent upon impressing their superiority upon the populace by lingering until just barely time enough to get to class.

Whether it was the lone frosh braving the storms of the first week in high school, or the courageous sophomore who returned to studies and a romance of freshman days, or junior and senior anticipating a full year of hard work, or ambitious teacher, the feelings were all a happy combination of pleasure and regret. Pleasure at the beginning of a new year, with its many possibilities and regrets that vacation is past.

Mrs. D. W. Brant of 217 North Kenwood street, returned home Sunday from the East after an enjoyable summer visit with relatives and friends in Cleveland, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo.; Tacoma, Wash., and Medford, Ore.

Miss Ida Wilshire of Redlands, who is a member of the Glendale High school faculty, arrived Friday and is located at present with Mrs. Roy Bancroft, at 121 West Eulalia street. Miss Wilshire is in the physical training department.

H. B. Goldsborough of 1937 East Gardena street, accompanied by C. T. Van Etten of Pasadena and Mr. Porter of Los Angeles, will leave on Wednesday for a ten days' hunting and fishing trip at Coleville, about 100 miles beyond Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bunting and children, Zelma, Harmon, Oswald and Lamont of 1325 North Brand boulevard, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Molz and family of 363 West Lexington drive, returned late last night from San Diego, where they witnessed the eclipse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Reed Heustis with their daughter Betty, and son Charles, of East Lorraine street, returned Sunday from a two-weeks' outing at Laguna Beach, where they had taken a cottage with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barry of Los Angeles.

Frank Galbraith, son of Roy Galbraith, has returned to Glendale after a summer at Ocean Park and is at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Galbraith of West Colorado street. Frank will enter the A8 class at the Wilson Avenue school next week.

25-Unit Bungalow Court on W. Acacia

A total of twenty-five units will comprise the LaFountain courts on West Acacia avenue between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, following erection of fourteen additional units on the property adjoining the present courts, states William H. LaFountain, who says that the total frontage will now be 136 feet and the depth 300 feet, making these courts among the most desirable in the city.

The new units will be of frame construction, consisting of living room, bedroom, kitchen, bath and screen porch, with first class plumbing and all modern appliances, together with an extra disappearing bed in each living room and a garage with each unit.

The location, Mr. LaFountain points out, is ideally situated for rental property, being close to Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue car lines and near Central avenue and the new Cerritos avenue Southern Pacific depot, the Acacia avenue school, the Gateway theatre, markets and stores. Some of the new units will be furnished. A caretaker will be hired.

JAPAN RESTORES ORDER

PEKING, Sept. 11.—The first direct word from Tokio received here was an official message today from the Japanese home office stating that order had been restored in the capital and that the food situation had been greatly relieved by the prompt response to calls for aid.

Social Events

Birthday Party

Mrs. S. A. Koontz of 470 Vine street was hostess Monday night to a number of friends whom she entertained with a Five Hundred party in honor of her daughter, Miss Eleanor Myrtle Collins, who celebrated her twenty-first birthday anniversary.

The refreshment table was artistically decorated with fall roses and African marigolds. A beautiful white birthday cake formed the centerpiece.

During the evening Five Hundred was played. Later the guest of honor was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts, among them being a piano, a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. Jacob O. Williams.

Late in the evening a dainty luncheon was served.

Those present who enjoyed the affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Root, Misses Emilie Collins, Vera Slauthour, and Fritz Louis, John Woolsey, Heart Wilson, J. C. Thompson, Carl Smith, Mrs. Jacob Omar Williams, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Koontz and the honoree, Miss Eleanor Collins.

News of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Domsler and Miss Alice Domsler of 320 South Adams street have returned home from the north, where they attended the wedding of Miss Hester Davis, an instructor at Stanford University, and Paul Bonnot, a former Glendale boy.

The marriage took place Saturday night, September 1, 1923, in the Stanford Memorial church, with Rev. George H. Whisler of Palo Alto officiating.

Francis Dreyer of Glendale was alson in attendance at the wedding.

Mr. Bonnot attended Glendale high school at one time and has friends here who will be interested in his marriage. Mrs. Bonnot is a Stanford graduate, having received the degrees of A. B. and M. A. and has been serving as instructor in the department of biology.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnot are to reside at University Park, Palo Alto, where they have built a new home.

Eleven Years Old

Virginia Endicott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Endicott of 423 West Broadway, celebrated her eleventh birthday anniversary last Saturday when Mrs. Endicott entertained a number of her little friends with a birthday party in her honor.

The rooms of the Endicott home were decorated with a pretty arrangement of pink carnations in orange colored baskets. The refreshment table was also decorated in the same color scheme. A beautiful orange birthday cake lighted with eleven pink candles formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table.

During the afternoon, games and contests were enjoyed and a pleasing musical program presented by several of the little guests.

Those present included Margaret Brennan, Alice Brennan, Helen Smith, Virginia Horner, Maude Glazier, Virginia Smith, Bernice Endicott and the guest of honor, Virginia Endicott.

Observe Eclipse at Pacific Palisades

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, of 331 El Bonito street, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Losey, of South Pasadena on Monday on a motor trip to Pacific Palisades where the party witnessed the eclipse of the sun from Inspiration Point. They were among the fortunate few who had a fine view as the day was very clear at this point.

The scene from Inspiration Point was of rare beauty combining as it did a wide view of mountain and sea. It was difficult to decide which was the most entrancing sight, the Santa Monica hills with the shadows creeping over their slopes and deepening in the canyons, or the twilight which crept over the sea, obscuring the distant coast line. Although near the shore the breakers caught on their crests the last bit of sunlight, till even the waves seemed to be stilled and a lone ship seemed to rise out of the mist, so invisible was the sea.

Monday was also the dedication of the new administration building of the Pacific Palisades and the party were the guests of the management at a luncheon presided over by Rev. Chas. H. Scott, president of the Pacific Palisades association, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale, who made a very interesting address.

Elks Vote Down Plan For Lodge in Burbank

That it is an inopportune time to charter an Elks lodge in Burbank was the decision registered by the final vote taken last night at a meeting of 300 or more Glendale Elks in the lodge rooms on East Colorado street. This decision was reached after a thorough consideration of the subject and a two hour discussion.

The big entertainment feature of the meeting last night was the appearance of the lodge band in the new uniforms to be worn to the coming convention at Eureka. Compliments were showered on the players both for their classy uniforms and fine playing.

The Glendale lodge has chartered two cars on the Glendale Pasadena special to the northern convention. There will be over fifty Glendalians aboard.

Realty Men Follow Up Glendale Inquiries

Inquiries that are being received at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce as a result of the advertising campaign that is now being carried on in the metropolitan newspapers of Los Angeles are being turned over to members of the organization who are realty dealers and are being followed up by them systematically.

As a result of this system a number of important sales have been made to newcomers who have come to Glendale through this advertising campaign.

MANY TO ATTEND HOLLYWOOD SHOW

Special P. E. Train to Take Glendalians to Witness 'The Covered Wagon'

All aboard for Hollywood!

This evening at 6:30 o'clock the Glendale Special will leave Brand boulevard and Broadway, loaded with those who are going to lend the Glendale atmosphere to the showing of "The Covered Wagon" at Grauman's Egyptian theatre at Hollywood, and it behooves those who intend to travel over the Pacific Electric lines to be on time, and to get their tickets beforehand, if they have not already done so.

The sale of tickets has already assured the presence of a large number of Glendalians at the showing of "The Covered Wagon," as the holding of Glendale Night gave many of those who had not before had an opportunity to see this screen masterpiece a chance to do so without having to go to the trouble and delay incident to seeing it under ordinary circumstances, and many expressions of praise for The Glendale Evening News and its share in making their visit to Hollywood possible under such circumstances have been heard.

The performance will start at 8:20 p. m., with a musical program, followed by the introduction of the Indians, an organ solo, a pageant of pioneer days, and the picture itself comes on the screen at 9:02, finishing at 11:01 p. m., when the special train will haul the visitors back over the Pacific Electric to their homes here.

West Broadway Folk Will Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting of the West Broadway Improvement Association at 8 o'clock tonight, at 107 South Central avenue, announces O. M. Newby, president, whose real estate office is at that address.

The object of the meeting is to start a movement for condemnation of ten additional feet on each side of West Broadway from Central to Pacific avenues, for the purpose of widening, Mr. Newby states, and urges everyone interested to attend the meeting.

DEATHS---FUNERALS

MRS. HANNAH MELVINA ROSE

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Melvina Rose, who died Saturday, September 8, 1923, at her home, 118 East Garfield street, was held at the L. G. Scovern company parlors Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. V. Hunter Brink, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church, of which Mrs. Rose had been a member for fifteen years, was in charge of the service. Miss Emily Kopp, accompanied by Miss Helen Muhleman, sang "Shadows."

The tribute of flowers to this much-loved woman from the organizations of the church with which she was connected and from friends were many and very beautiful.

Relatives from out-of-town who were present were Dr. Beckett of Los Angeles, a brother, Mrs. Phillis and Mrs. Jennie Saulsbury, a sister and niece from Arroya Grande. Interment was at Grand View Memorial park.

JAMES ARMSTRONG

Funeral services for James Armstrong, who met his death in an automobile accident Sunday, September 9, at the corner of Central avenue and Lexington drive, will be held from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company, Wednesday, September 12, 1923, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Louis Tinning of the First Presbyterian church will officiate. Interment will be made at Forest Lawn Memorial park.

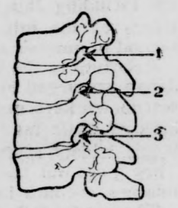
NO PAIN LIKE THAT OF RHEUMATISM
Weekly Health Talk No. 10.
By Drs. Eble & Eble, Ds. C.

UNCLE BEN SAYS:
"Nevvy, ain't it funny that some of our smartest young folks can't remember what the first two letters in 'dough' are.
The man or woman who suffers from chronic rheumatism knows the full meaning of pain from center to circumference. There are the hours and the days of continuous dull pain, broken only by the sharp spasms when the agony becomes so severe as to be almost unendurable.
When chiropractic spinal adjustments are given normal nerve action is restored and disease disappears. The chiropractic spinal adjustment for all forms of rheumatism is kidney place in combination with local adjustments to normalize the nerves leading to the affected parts.
The chiropractor brings the rheumatic back to health by eliminating the cause.
KEEP YOUNG FACTS FROM THE BOOK OF LIFE


No. 1—Nerve opening narrowed to 50% normal. (Healthful impulses can not travel pinched nerve lines.)
No. 2.—Cartilage badly thinned opening 20% normal. (Life flutters feebly on nerve lines so squeezed.)
No. 3—Normal life impulses through such an opening keep you young.
The chiropractor by adjustments of these movable vertabrae correct diseases of the head eyes, ears, nose, throat, arms, heart, lungs, liver, stomach, pancreas, spleen, kidneys, bowels and lower limbs.
WELL AFTER TEN YEARS' SUFFERING
"My daughter, Violet, was ill ten years with rheumatism. During her last attack she was bedfast seven months suffering unspeakable pain. Medical doctors said her case was hopeless. We tried chiropractic and she experienced some relief after the first few adjustment. After four months of adjustments she was able to walk. This seemed a miracle to us."—William R. Back From 4600 Mile Trip to Northwest

Mrs. J. E. Rockhold and daughter Leone of 330 West Burchett street, accompanied by Mrs. Rockhold's father, J. C. Bardsley, have returned from an interesting motor trip up the west coast extending over a period of two months, during which they traveled over 4600 miles.

They visited relatives and friends in many parts of the north, among them Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dudley, formerly of Glendale, who are now located in Portland. Mr. Bardsley enjoyed a reunion with a sister from Seattle and a brother from Aberdeen, who met him in Tacoma for a visit.

They motored up the trail on Mt. Rainier to aradise Valley. A good view of Mt. Lassen in a state of eruption, the Cascades and salmon fishing on the Sound were found most interesting. The trip north was terminated at Seattle.

NINE LIVES LOST IN CATASTROPHE

Santa Clara's Business Halts As Cat Short Circuits Electric Current

SANTA CLARA, Sept. 11.—Nine lives were snuffed out, 5000 people were thrown out of employment, $25,000 loss was sustained, street cars were stopped, the huge packing plants in the middle of the fruit harvest belt were shut down, perspiring women over ironing boards were given a rest and City Clerk J. A. Cronin refused to answer telephone calls—and all because a cat chased a bird up a pole here.

In the late afternoon, "Tom" or "Pussy," it will never be known which, was resting in the shade of one of the huge power poles at the municipal sub-station near the Pratt Low Preserving Company. The cat was awakened by a fluttering of wings of a bird close to its head. The bird then flew to the top of the pole. The cat went up the pole. Its tail rested on one wire and it placed its paw on another.

There were nine jerks as each life passed into the great beyond, a loud report as the official municipal fuses were blown out and, had it not been in the afternoon, the city of Santa Clara would have been in darkness.

plete details of the inquiry and to study the Italian reply further.

While yesterday's meeting ostensibly was to arrange details of the inquiry, actually most of the time was given up to discussing the Italian occupation of Corfu.

Lord Crewe, the British delegate, expressed disappointment over Premier Mussolini's statement to the press indicating long drawn out Italian occupation.

Lord Crewe agreed to the ambassadorial note to Athens upon persuasion of M. Cambon, French president of the ambassadorial council and Signor Avezzana. Lord Crewe was informed if the council supported the Italian viewpoint, Mussolini would make a "generous gesture" by evacuating promptly.

Issues Statement

Greek Minister Romanos gave the following exclusive statement to International News Service:

"I have just delivered a message from my government to the ambassadorial council saying Greece is ready to carry out all the honors and ceremonies for the slain Italians Thursday.

"Personally I believe Thursday is too soon for it, but the government wishes the ceremonies as soon as possible to show good faith. Latest information from Athens indicates the assassins are hiding in the Albanian mountains."

Mrs. Sarah B. Stewart At Home From Trip

Mrs. Sarah B. Stewart of the Stewar Realty company has returned from a summer outing in the northern section, most of the time being spent in the state of Washington. Mrs. Stewart was accompanied by her son, Charles.

"Many people in the state of Washington are coming this way," said Mrs. Stewart this morning. "All who can sell out and come to the southland are headed here. Of course, the lumber industry is booming—for they are turning out lumber for southern California buildings. Make no mistake, this will be a big winter in Southern California."

The Stewart Realty company was formerly located at 219 East Broadway. Now it is located in room 219, Lawson building, Brand and Wilson. The company also have a branch office at 817 North Louise, the telephone being Glendale 1515-M.

2000 ENROLL IN G. H. S. THIS TERM

At Least Indications Early In Afternoon Would Set New High Record

They will then fill out their regular enrollment cards.

Work Starts at Once

Regular school work will commence tomorrow. Juniors and seniors will attend in the morning between 7:30 a. m. and noon; freshmen and sophomores will attend in the afternoon between noon and 5:30 p. m.

As soon as a certain number of students have signed up for a class further enrollment in that class is stopped. In this manner overcrowding of classes and the necessity of re-arranging them after commencement of school is expected to be avoided.

Special subjects have their class registration limited to the available equipment while most studies have their class attendance limited to twenty-five. If it is necessary to increase this number, it will be done for all of the separate classes of the same subjects uniformly. Very few changes are anticipated.

Arthur Lund, Delphy, Jamestown, N. Y., deep cuts and abrasions.

Make Rescue Efforts

Another effort will be made early today to release the men who are believed to be imprisoned in the compartments of the Young. Heavy seas yesterday frustrated all efforts of the rescuers to gain a vantage position about the hull. Salvage officials indicated today that the task is extremely difficult and hazardous because of the manner in which the Young is resting.

All seven destroyers are still on the rocks pounding to pieces. About thirty miles from the wreck is the steamer Cuba, which grounded Saturday, wedged between rocks on this strip of treacherous coast line, and being gradually reduced to wreckage.

Strewn Along Shore

The Delphy was cut in two abaft the torpedo deck, while the Young is on her beam ends. Otner vessels of the flotilla are promiscuously strewn nearby, just about 200 yards from the shore.

"To the courage and discipline of American sailors must be given credit for the fact that only 23 men lost their lives in the wreck instead of 400," said Captain E. H. Watson of the destroyer flotilla.

"We had been in battle formation, but as night came on and the fog thickened, we fell into single column at about 20 knots an hour. The sea was very heavy and the fog so dense it was impossible to see the bow of the Delphy. When we struck there was no time to give a warning. We did, however, blow a danger blast, and then came the crash."

The official probe is expected to be held at the scene of the wreck and later continued at San Diego.

Changes Made in Casualty List

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—The navy department today issued an official list of the casualties incurred in the loss of seven destroyers on the Pacific coast, showing one dead and twenty-two missing and believed to be dead.

The names of E. W. Grady of Gretna, Neb., and E. Jones of New Orleans, were added to the unofficial list issued last night, while the names of Henry J. Schrank of Milwaukee, Wis., and Joseph Silva of Cambridge, Mass., were eliminated from the first casualty list.

BURBANK

TURKEY CROSSING TO BE MADE SAFE

$50,000 Investment by S. P. Required at Each of 23 Danger Points

Turkey crossing is one of the twenty-three Southern Pacific crossings in the Los Angeles territory which are to be eliminated, news that will be gratefully received by residents of this city, as death has stood with a scythe at this point, ready at all times of the day and night to reap in the unwary.

This puts Burbank on a par with Glendale, in this respect, their Los Feliz and Brand crossings also being numbered among the twenty-three scheduled to be separated.

It is estimated that each separation will cost $50,000, a total investment on the part of the railroad of over $1,000,000 to secure additional safety for the public.

New Building

L. Olson will erect at once, on Tujunga avenue, a fireproof store building fronting 50 feet on the avenue and having a depth of 60 feet. The structure when completed will be occupied by Rains, Seward & company, local automobile dealers, as a salesroom and garage.

The McKeon cannery is now on a steady run of peaches and tomatoes, which the officers state will continue until the cold weather. The tomato pack will probably be 60,000 cases, they state.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Preston and little son are now on their way east. Dave, no doubt, carries with him pleasant memories of the farewell banquet the Mystic Smilers tendered him just before leaving, but hopes next time they'll let him know in advance, before he eats one on his own account, as he did that time.

Burbank "speed cops" have had their motorcycles equipped with a new type of speedometer, according to Police Chief Long, in a recent address before the Board of Trustees.

The new meters contain two arrows on the dial, one that behaves as formerly, the other going to the highest speed registered and stopping there. In this way, working the motorcycle officers in pairs, it is Mr. Long's ambition to secure testimony against speeders that will outweigh any evidence they, themselves, may be able to supply to the contrary.

"Reckless driving" is going to largely supplant "speeding" in Burbank, as a means of haling offenders into court in the future, Mr. Long divulged, as this former term covers a multitude of sins.

"A driver does not have to exceed the legal speed limit in order to be apprehended for reckless driving," Mr. Long states. "If he or she drives a car in such a manner as to jeopardize life or property, he or she will also jeopardize liberty and the pursuit of happiness! We mean to see that motorists behave themselves while in this city."

Parents Won't Prosecute

The parents of the dead man, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, were present at the inquest and declared that they had no desire to prosecute Redenbaugh for the unfortunate occurrence. The two young men, they declared, had been close friends since the Armstrong family had settled in Los Angeles after coming to southern California from Canada several years ago, and they do not hold Redenbaugh to blame for what they consider an unavoidable accident.

An effort is being made by Attorney Peck to secure Redenbaugh's release pending the action of the district attorney's office, and especially in view of the stand taken by the parents of the deceased, but Col. J. D. Fraser, Glendale chief of police, declares that he would not act on such a request until he had conferred with the authorities and had been given a ruling on the question.

We feel that you are just as interested in the new arrivals of Silks as we are, more so, in fact, as you are now thinking of making up a new Fall dress. As they arrive we intend telling you in detail of each particular kind. Today we are featuring Satin Face Cantons $4.50 yd.

Extra Heavy Quality—These silks are appealing in their soft, luxurious, clinging lines, and the plain color cantons are very much wanted materials for the new Fall dresses. The colors—black, navy blue, dark brown, Autumn brown, cigarette, tan and beige. Satin Face Cantons give unusual wear as you well know. They are of Webb's high quality as always.

New Fall Dress Trimmings

While speaking of Silks, it would be well to mention the new Fall Trimmings. Spangled Bands in black and colors.

The new Wool Trimmings in all high colors so popular this season.
A good line of plain Silk Braids.
Tassels in Silk, or Beads in different sizes.
Motifs in black and colors.

New Fall Silk Dresses —Special— $29.50

A special shipment just arrived in the newest styles with pleated tiers from knee down, pleated front apron effects, with tie back. Many new, pleasing styles of Moire Silk and Satin Face Canton. Some elaborately trimmed in bright beads. Colors—black, brown, taupe. See these today.

Fall Millinery Is of the Utmost Interest to Every Woman Just Now —and the fact that we are featuring about 50 new

Trimmed Hats at $10.00

—will interest you most of all. You would really think they were far more expensive as they are copies of imported patterns. In making your selection you have a wide range of colors such as Chinese Blue, Black, Coolidge Brown, Asis Brown, Henna Red, Reindeer, Fawn and Grey.

Millinery Dept.—2nd Floor

We Are Ready for Re-trims!

Our workroom now ready to remodel your last year's Hat for you. Our expert milliners will be glad to offer suggestions and help you in every way. We have a complete line of the new Flowers, Feathers and Fancies for your selection.

Quiet Boosters Do Their Part in Building Glendale

A Glendale man once made the remark, "When I go away on business or for pleasure and meet strangers I tell them I live in Los Angeles. It saves time. They don't know where Glendale is." That was when Glendale was a village and few people knew of its existence, for it had no postoffice and no railroad station so did not appear on any map. No doubt the man saved time by this method but his was not the spirit that builds communities. He thought Glendale a good place to live in but he didn't want to take the trouble to tell others.

Everyone knows where Glendale is now and there are few Glendale men who would forego the pleasure of telling others that he lives here. Glendale people are known for their boosting propensities both at home and abroad. This spirit of pride in Glendale has helped mightily in her development.

But the true booster doesn't confine himself to words alone. He takes advantage of every opportunity to speak a good word for Glendale, it is true, but his motto is, "Actions speak louder than words." The true booster takes an active interest in community life, he usually owns a home in Glendale; he spends his money in the Glendale stores.

It isn't necessary to speak loudly or to say much to be a Glendale booster. Glendale's best boosters are the hundreds, yes thousands, of her citizens who own homes here, spend their money here and go quietly about their daily work. Community loyalty is as instinctive with them as love of family and allegiance to country.

The men and women represented on this page are Glendale boosters. They are community builders. They are trying to maintain places of business worthy of Glendale and endeavoring to give service of the highest character. They are working for a Greater Glendale and they ask your co-operation.

Dempsey Makes Poor Showing to Boost Odds, Says Fistic Expert

SARATOGA, SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept 11.—Jack Dempsey performs his last workout hereabouts today.

"And I'll say I'm a glad guy about that," said the champion.

"Of all the training camps I've ever had this has been the worst."

Dempsey was scheduled to spar for six speedy rounds, after which he will hang up his workout gloves and don them no more until he takes on either Harry Wills or Tom Gibbons, providing he polishes off Luis Firpo in expected fashion.

On Wednesday Dempsey will do nothing but muscle limbering exercises. He will leave New York at noon Thursday instead of Wednesday, as was planned.

By MAX KASE

For International News Service

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Sept 11.—If men today rush around feverishly to wager on Luis Firpo, it is probable that their action is due to the trick fistic showing which Jack Dempsey made in his camp Sunday. And if a group of experts break into print today with the viewpoint that Dempsey does not look so nifty, theirs is a logical conclusion, if it is based on what he did for more than 2000 cash customers.

Jack Dempsey made the most miserable showing of his entire training camp session before a record crowd yesterday, which included his old trainer, Jimmy De Forrest, and some writers who were viewing him for the first time.

And the conclusion was the one Jack Kearns hoped they would take away with them. For Kearns likes to have a little wager on his champion every time Dempsey goes to the fistic post, and Kearns always seeks the best odds.

Inasmuch as the quotations have been hanging around 3 to 1 that Dempsey will win, and inasmuch as they have since broken to 2½ to 1, in some places 2 to 1, since the experts decided Dempsey was not as good as supposed, you may imagine the inner delight of Kearns and the insiders in the Dempsey camp who want to make a wagering clean-up on the battle.

THE PENNANT RACE

While the Pirates and Reds were battling among themselves, the Giants took advantage of the situation and increased their lead in the National league pennant race. Today the Giants are five games in front of the Pirates and five and a half games ahead of the Reds.

If the Giants win ten of their remaining seventeen games, the Pirates must win eighteen of their twenty-one games and the Reds eighteen of their twenty remaining games to prevent New York from winning the flag.

In the American league the Yankees have a lead of fourteen games over the Indians this morning. If they win twelve of their remaining twenty-four games they will win the pennant, even if Cleveland wins all of its remaining twenty-six games.

The candle clock is an old-time novelty invented by King Arthur and is still manufactured in England, rings being painted on the tallow at regular hour and half-hour intervals.

An arena echoing with the roaring tumult of a hundred thousand babbling men—

A mass of scintilating color flecked with fireflies of lighted cigarettes—

A maddening, hysterical shout above the din.—

From ring to bleachers a surging wave of eager, expectant faces—

The air is rent with cries of joy and growls of disapproval, all swirling up to mingle in a mighty roar of wild discord—

A robe of myriad colors, stripped, reveals a man of prehistoric time glaring from beneath a bushy shock of coarse black hair, his face covered by mats of stubble beard, long hair dangling from his massive chest and arms—

All these shove memory back ten thousand years!

A bell clangs—great hush.

He advances to the attack with ponderous, quiet ferocity, flaying his enemy with sweeping overhand blows as primitive man was wont to use a club—

Firpo!

Then, after all, just how much does science count when pitted against such brute strength?

Firpo—but one short year back an unknown, training in the cellar of a roadhouse in New Jersey—looks back upon the prostrate forms of the best ring gladiators of his time, victims of his mighty fists.

He fought Sailor Maxted for $150 and won with a K. O. That was his first fight. Since then in some fourteen bouts he has defeated every heavyweight facing him, by the K. O. route or by outpunching them.

Firpo is awkward, crude, lacks science in boxing and is slow, for he is a whooping big fellow. He has but one punch, and that in his right. He might as well check his left in his dressing room.

BUT—

When all is said and done, the fact remains that when Firpo lands with his right they go down and they seldom get up.

He shoots round house punches. He is wide open. He has no defense, yet he has beat his way right up through the best heavyweights until only the champion stands between him and the heights.

Firpo has the lust of combat. He is a powerfully strong man with a terrific wallop, and seems to have courage and faith in his own ability. To teach him cleverness in boxing, in footwork, or defense might take the K. O. out of his punch—might even slow him down. He may be a more dangerous man in his crude way at this time, than he will be a year from now when he has absorbed a little more of ring science.

As long as he is on his feet he has a chance to win any fight with one right-hand sock.

Bill Brennan looked like a winner against Firpo. Then before half a minute had elapsed, Bill was stretched out on the floor awaiting an ambulance.

It takes a wallop to win a championship. And Firpo certainly has a wallop—

But can he land?

TAGGING ALL BASES

The Giants came from behind and batted the Braves into submission, 10 to 4.

Babe Ruth slammed out his 35th homer and from then on it was easy for the Yankees to defeat the Red Sox, 8 to 1.

Pittsburg went back into second place when the Reds were whitewashed, 8 to 0.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh

International News Service Sports Editor

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 11.—The mystery of the darkened garage achieved the denouement with a semi-authoritative statement that Luis Firpo indulges in his morning drill with his right arm strapped peculiarly to his side. The statement was vouchsafed by a man who keeps his index finger on the pulse of affairs at the challenger's camp, and is supposed to be the truth, wholly, entirely and nothing but.

The object of this maneuver is obvious. Firpo has the right-handed complex in its most malignant form, and only by restraining that member with a strap can be give his left the amount of exercise necessary to complete its education, if any. The idea originated with Jack Kearns, who cured Dempsey of an inept left hand by the same method, but Firpo, seemingly, has no diffidence about borrowing from his friends, the enemy.

Talk About Businesses

In fact, Luis has very little diffidence about anything. It was learned that the "gate" cut at the dog track amounts to a snug $2000, two-third of which goes to Firpo. And while Firpo is preparing to take a flock of knuckles from Dempsey and $100,000 from Rickard, he declines to pay his sparring partners for the days that they do not obtain an actual bout with him. They must, however, present themselves to training quarters in ring togs under pain of being dismissed.

For upwards of a week, old Jeff Clark has been out at the dog track, ready for work but it hasn't got him anything except the trip in the street car. Frank Koebele, former Brooklyn amateur, hasn't been invited to step into the ring for two days and the Argentinan, Pera, has been idle and consequently devoid of dinero for ten days. They are piece workers. This is not orthodox but Firpo is nothing if not unusual. What the public does not know, however, is that the Argentine after eating a meal that would kill any other athlete, lays down and falls into a profound sleep. Any medical man would tell you the adverse effect to be obtained by sleeping immediately after a meal.

Works in Garage

As for his alleged attempt to make something out of a more or less harmless left, we would say, off-hand, that the Argentine hardly has the time at his disposal to succeed in that laudable endeavor. He would need upward of five weeks to achieve anything. He has just five days before stepping out against Jack Dempsey at the Polo grounds. As a matter of fact, these five days will be quite worthless as far as they might contribute toward teaching an old dog new tricks. Firpo has displayed an inclination to cut down his training during recent days and is expected to reduce his amount of work in proportion as the hour for the bout approaches.

It was rumored today that Firpo's left hand was hampered by a touch of neuritis but the evidence has been to the contrary. The member in question is gradually improving as a weapon of attack and our source of information lays this fact against the morning workouts in the deserted garage.

Nolan Gives Views

Add to the oversupply of pallbearers who regard Luis Firpo as a terrible mistake the name of Billy Nolan, celebrated raconteur, man of the world and manager of Battling Nelson in the days of Goldfield, Nev., and the immortal Joe Gans. Mr. Nolan is not impressed with the senor as a possible champion, and said as much today.

He is not particularly enamored of Jack Dempsey either, Mr. Nolan being what might be characterized as a tough audience. He merely thinks Firpo lacks the sheer ability to become champion of the world, although willing to concede that the Latin's strength and punch give him an outside chance on Friday night, providing he is able and willing to take a beating in order to give one.

"He is a big, powerful fellow," quoth Mr. Nolan with the air of one who divulges a secret. "The question in my mind is whether he can stand the gaff. He is sure to take a terrible beating, for I never saw a challenger with less confidence than this man has shown. He doesn't seem to know what to do when they start hammering him in a clinch, and I can't see how he is going to avoid being hit often with a left hook.

His own left is a joke. He might as well tie it behind him for then the temptation of trying to use it would be removed.

"If Firpo can stand up under punishment he is sure to receive for a few rounds at least, he might be able to land one good one with that right of his. Anything he hits with that is sure to be hurt."

The Dodgers, going nowhere, found the Phillies easy, and won, 7 to 1.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"A Friendly Husband" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. This is a Fox film, featuring the English comedian, Lupino Lane, and was directed by Jack Blystone.

The value of comedy lies largely in the deft use of that which is not obvious, and this Mr. Lane employs constantly. For instance, seldom has there been filmed a scene more basically ridiculous than that where the three outlaws are shown playing with the ouija board. This makes the most rib-cracking appeal to the audience.

Amid sweltering heat, Lupino Lane as the hero goes home with a complete camping outfit, hitched to his car and takes his little wife to the coolness of the woods—when lo! his mother-in-law swoops down on the party.

"A Friendly Husband" just rambles along from one screaming, uproarious situation to another.

One who willingly listens to reprehension admits the need of self-correction.

THE GATEWAY

"Three Wise Fools" shows at the Gateway Theatre today, with William H. Crane, Alec Francis and Claude Gillingwater as the three "fools." Just how foolish they are can be imagined when it is learned that Gillingwater played his part 1348 times when the piece ran as a popular New York play.

The screen version of the famous Austin Strong play was directed by King Vidor and is released by Goldwyn. In adapting the play, Vidor has retained all the charm and freshness of the original and has, in addition, imbued it with something that he alone can give a photoplay.

"Three Wise Fools" has a cast that includes, besides the above named actors, Eleanor Boardman, Craig Biddle, Jr., William Haines, Fred J. Butler, Martha Mattox, Charles Hickman and Fred Esmeldon.

The story concerns three old men who have in their youth all loved and been rejected by the same woman, who, on her death, leaves her daughter in their charge.

John Watson Promises McGraw to Be Good

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—John Watson, pitcher for the New York Giants, who was suspended for the balance of the season and fined $500 for an infraction of the rules, has been reinstated, thanks to his fellow players. Manager McGraw received a long-distance call fom Watson, in which the player asked that his suspension be lifted and promising to be good in the future. McGraw put it up to the other players, and, on their guarantee that the pitcher would break no more training rules, he reinstated Watson.

Ruth Ties Williams In Home Run Score

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Babe Ruth tied Cy Williams for home-run honors yesterday afternoon when he smashed out his thirty-fifth circuit clout in the fourth inning of the game with Boston.

CAR IS RECOVERED

A Packard single-six sedan belonging to A. J. Sheppard of 407 South Central avenue, was recovered for him yesterday at Los Feliz road and Hillcrest drive. It was stolen Sunday night and abandoned. It was stolen from Colorado and Louise and Mr. Sheppard offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the thief.

ATTEND CONVENTION

The Pacific League of Municipalities annual convention at the Hotel Coronado, Coronado, is being attended by three representatives of Glendale: City Attorney Ray L. Morrow, City Clerk A. J. Van Wie and City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy.

CELEBRANTS FINED

Fines of $25 apiece for disturbing the peace in an automobile parked in front of 532 Patterson avenue were paid this morning by Douglas Ruder and George Hughes of Los Angeles. The other two occupants of the car, James Campbell and J. A. Brockman, also of Los Angeles, plead not guilty and asked for jury trials.

Held for Trial on Auto Theft Charge

Jack Bawman, who gives his address as Kansas City, Mo., was brought from the county jail into Judge F. H. Lowe's court and then taken back to the county jail to await trial. He was arrested about 1 a. m. September 3, while riding through Burbank in an automobile, which had been stolen that night from H. R. Cunningham of 1210 North San Fernando road.

While wholesome advice may be given by an evil mind, it carries a savor of doubt.

INDEX TO COMMUNITY LOYALTY PAGE

PAGE 4 OF THIS ISSUE OF THE EVENING NEWS

Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.

The object of this index column is to refer you to the Glendale Loyalty Page on page 4 of this issue where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Page will appear in The Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

That's All

High School Opens Today
Gambling on Our Weather
California Is Prosperous
Rail Rates and Prices

By Gil A. Cowan

HIGH school opens today. Vacation is now in the state of partial eclipse. In another week, with the opening of the city schools, the point of totality will have been reached by the younger generation.

Great preparations are being made for the youth of Glendale, educationally speaking. Principal George U. Moyse of the high school, speaking of the half-day sessions, advises that students improve hours out of school by study. That is a good suggestion. Parents should see that it is followed.

For, if you will pause a moment and consider what the city, state and nation are doing in the way of education, you will find that the young folks are highly favored. They are accorded the best of everything.

Therefore, reciprocal relations between the students and schools should exist. The opportunity of learning ought to be given first consideration. Work and play should be secondary considerations.

Industrious students are good workers, however, and good workers enjoy their play hours best. All go hand in hand.

The eclipse will come again in some six score years, according to scientists. In the meantime, the present generation and the coming generation will have lived and died without seeing the sight in California that was more or less visible yesterday.

It seemed as though the elements were determined to hide from the all too-knowing scientists the secrets of the ages. It may be that the Einstein theory will remain a riddle for some years to come as a result of clouded skies.

And certain insurance companies will lose heavily because of the "cloud policies" they wrote for the scientific expeditions.

It has been reported on best authority that one can gamble on Southern California sunshine.

But it seems not so.

Some phenomenal incidents were reported yesterday, such as crabs coming out by the millions on the rocks of Southern California's shore line for their night feeding, just as the sun was hidden by the moon at noon.

Yet there were half a million human crabs along the scheduled route of "totality" who couldn't see the flaming corona and other advertised attractions because of the clouds.

The writer learns that eastern publications are closely watching the economy administration of Friend William Richardson as governor of California. There seems to be a difference of opinion expressed, yet it is evident that the former treasurer is still on the job curbing the state's expenditures and making the most of an unusual situation.

Certain interests have been fighting the terms of the budget, and it may be months before the lawyers can thresh out the fine legal points. Yet in that time the general public will have had opportunity to decide who is right and what is wrong, which, in the final analysis, will be decisions of greater import than those handed down from the judiciary.

California is prospering as it never has before; state government is living within its income; county and city and local school administrations are making enviable records in the matter of protecting the public's pocketbook. Really, there appears to be a renaissance of efficiency with economy, not alone in public affairs, but in business as well.

So far as the writer can see, and vision is not obscured the least by the moot eclipse, California is getting along in great shape. In another year or two we will be able to see even better as to what is needed after having reduced the load to minimum.

However, you will likely see sporadic efforts on the part of Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction, to criticize Governor Richardson. It is only natural. Mr. Wood did not get what he wanted.

For his sophistication we might comment that few people get what they want—but usually what they deserve.

It's a strange old world. We have to make the best of it.

Sometimes we read the Chicago Tribune. Lots of people like its editorial columns. Here is a recent comment on the subject of "Freight Rates and Commodity Prices' which the Union Pacific sends us. You may read it as you like, but if you own rail stock or farm land, it is of particular interest:

"The head of the Carnegie institute at Pittsburgh told a gathering of New Jersey farmers that if the manufacturers of machinery, clothing, house furnishings and other commodities would reduce prices two per cent this would reduce the farmer's expenses as much as a twenty-five per cent reduction in freight rates. So would a reduction of one per cent in interest on loans.

"The trouble with that proposition is that the freight rates may be reduced—possibly—by political pressure; commodity and interest not so readily.

"But that is a consideration the farmers will ponder very carefully, if they look to the future. They may be able to force a reduction in freight rates by using their influence upon the machinery of regulation, but if that reduces the efficiency of transportation, the immediate advantage will be swallowed up sooner or later, probably sooner. Regulation, unless it is constructive, unless, in the long run, it builds up the railroads, is not in the farmer's interest. As his political leaders do not discuss that much, it is up to the farmer to look it up for himself. Just freight rates should be worked for, but a rate that is inadequate to the carrier is not just to the farmer, though he may think it is until he begins to pay the price of inadequate service.'

TUJUNGA

FIRE DISTRICTS IN VALLEY ASSURED

Board of Supervisors at Last Realizes Tujunga Is Real Town

One of the most important developments to Tujunga and Sunland and the entire valley is the formation of fire districts that has just been accomplished. It took a long time to find out this move was needed, but, by a unanimous vote, the board of county supervisors ordered the formation of the districts, and a tax will be levied at once for funds for use in buying equipment. These funds will begin to come in when the December installment of taxes is paid. A special tax will be added to the county rate for this purpose.

No protests were entered against the formation of the districts, making it unnecessary to call an election.

The fire tax will not, in all probability, exceed 20 cents on the $100 assessed valuation in the Tujunga-Sunland district. This tax applies to real property only, land and improvements, but not personal property.

In this district the assessed real estate valuation is $1,776,840. A 20-cent tax on that amount would net $3522.

Officials of the county forestry department stated that this amount would be available for use in supplying fire-fighting apparatus. No deduction is to be made for supervision by the county forestry officials.

To Move Postoffice

Postmistres Nona Halferty has received notice from the postal department at Washington, D. C., auhorizing the removal of the Tujunga postoffice from the present quarters at El Centro and Sunset boulevard to the new Breidt building across the street, now under construction.

Lack of room necessitated this move.

A new schedule for arrival and departure of mail from this office has also been put into effect, beginning September 1, as follows: Arrives, 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.; leaves, 11:30 a. m. and 4:45 p. m.

This schedule will make it possible for the mail arriving in Los Angeles from eastern points at 12:15 p. m. to be delivered in Tujunga the same day, instead of the following day, as has been done previously.

Slips are being distributed to patrons of the Tujunga rural route, notifying them of changes to be made in their box numbers within the next few days.

The numbers are being isued, and should arrive soon. The establishment of a route out of Tujunga to replace the one from Glendale made this renumbering necessary.

Tools Are Missing

Fire Warden James Blaine has issued a call for the return of any miscellaneous fire-fighting apparatus, such as extinguishers, shovels, canteens or any other tools that may have inadvertently been absent-mindedly carried off or misplaced following the subduing of several recent fires These tools are indispensable to the efficient work of the volunteers in saving property.

Henry Cantor to Give Recital as Farewell

Henry Cantor, operatic tenor, will give a farewell recital at the Tuesday Afternoon club, Saturday night, September 22, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ways and Means section of the club, Mrs A. H. Montgomery, chairman.

Mr. Cantor will be assisted by Mme. Jadwiga Zebrowska, prima donna soprano; Miss Iva Hanners, lyric soprano, and Harry Nielsen, renowned pianist.

Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Mrs. Montgomery states, at the Brunswick shop, and in Los Angeles at Barker Brothers and at the office of Mme. Newcombe Prindell, Mr. Cantor's exclusive manager, Majestic Theatre building.

Mrs. Montgomery, 415 South Central avenue, also has tickets on sale.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — The stock market closed strong today. Under the leadership of the independent oil stocks, the market ran into a brisk forward movement in the closing period. Cosden Oil was the most active of the oil group, selling up nearly 3 points to 33¾. The rest of the oil list was steady and showed good fractional gains. New York Central rose nearly 2 points to 102¾ and Davison Chemical three points to 50½.

The bond market was strong at the close, the best prices for the day having been registered in the final rally. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds were steady. Stock sales were 632,400 shares; bonds $6,474,00.

SUNLAND

VISITORS CROWD POPULAR RESORT

Monte Vista Park Attracts Picnic Groups From All Adjacent Cities

Monte Vista park was crowded over the week end, as usual. This increasingly popular oak grove with the tables, ovens for cooking, children's playground apparatus and nearby stores and refreshment stands, has become the rendezvous of motorists for Sunday and holiday outings from near and far, many even going early and deferring breakfast until they reach the park, cooking their bacon and eggs in the stone fireplaces.

Many club and commercial house picnics are held there. Sunday the Cannon Ball Express and Transfer Company of Los Angeles held the annual picnic on these grounds. Several machines were required to carry the employes and their families.

Baseball and other games were enjoyed and at noon a basket lunch was spread under the shade of the oaks.

OFFICERS AWAIT DONWELL AUTOS

Guard Roads Into Chicago to Arrest Drivers of Two Missing Cars

Neighbors of David Donwell and his wife, Nettie C. Donwell, formerly of 718 East Raleigh street, disagree as to whether the "Nettie Brown" being held with the defaulting local merchant in Chicago is his wife.

Meanwhile, the man who disappeared from Glendale August 7, having obtained $20,000 in cash by sacrificing securities, is being held in Chicago with a woman who accompanied him from this city in an expensive automobile.

Mania for Cars

Donwell's particular mania (if, as certain of his acquaintances insist, he is insane), seems to be automobiles. When he made his break on August 7, he left in a Los Angeles garage a car more than two-thirds paid for. This car was seized by J. C. Pollock, former local Oldsmobile agent, for defaulted payments.

News dispatches tell of two other cars Donwell gave to two women before departing from the coast. Who these women are is not yet known but United States deputy marshals guarding the roads into Chicago are hopeful of apprehending them. One woman is believed to be a former wife of the defaulting merchant.

The car Mr. Pollock foreclosed on was a four-cylinder semi-sport model Oldsmobile, painted red, purchased in Glendale, October, 1922, states C. H. Hunter, who is now in charge of the local Oldsmobile agency.

Wife Leaves Home

Mrs. Nettie C. Donwell left her home at 718 East Raleigh street on August 28, her neighbors report, saying that she was destitute and had taken a position in Los Angeles. That was the last they saw of her.

One woman, who wishes her name withheld, states that about August 23, a man called on her phone and asked for Mrs. Donwell. This woman swears the man's voice was that of David Donwell, who, at that time, had been missing for over two weeks.

'Petticoat Lane, Is Musical Comedy Title

Where and what is "Petticoat Lane?" is the question being asked by Glendalians since the appearance about town of colorful placards announcing "Petticoat Lane is Coming."

Some light was shed on the subject this morning when Paul O. Morgan, master councilor of the Glendale De Molay chapter, announced that "Petticoat Lane" is to be a big musical comedy given Monday and Tuesday nights at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, by the De Molays for the benefit of the chapter. There will be fifty in the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Denni are directing the production, and rehearsals are being held every night at the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard. Mr. Morgan requests that all De Molays be present for the rehearsal tonight.

W. H. REEVES ON JOB

City Manager W. H. Reeves "recovered" from his two weeks' vacation today and was at his desk attending to the city's business.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Reflecting the slight demand reported in Liverpool, wheat shaded off with free selling and from fractional losses went to a still lower close. Corn developed its own strength despite reports of a bumper crop. Oats mildly irregular.

Wheat closed 1-2 to 5-8 off. Corn was up 1-8 to 5-8 and oats from 1-8 up to 1-4 off. Provisions were quiet.

"Raisins o' the Sun"
from the Pacific-Southwest

SINCE the beginnings of civilization the raisin has been famed as a delectable and nourishing food. Once only a seasonal delicacy, it is now used everywhere the year round.

The raisin industry has made rapid strides in the Pacific-Southwest. Sixty per cent of the world's supply is now produced here. In 1912, the cooperative organization of the growers was formed and handled 24,512 tons, bringing $1,500,000.00. Last year the Sun Maid Raisin Growers, composed of 14,000 vineyardists—90% of all in the United States—handled 180,000 tons, a crop valued at $37,980,000.00.

Through its inter-community system, this Bank has been able to materially assist the financing and recent re-financing of the raisin growers, and is rendering to the entire Pacific-Southwest a type of service quite impossible were its member banks operating individually.

LA CRESCENTA

FIRE DISTRICT IS ASKED FOR VALLEY

Petitions Filed With County Board of Supervisors; Other News Notes

Petitions filed with the county supervisor for the formation of the La Crescenta Valley and Tujunga-Sunland fire protection districts were heard last week and, as there were no protests entered against them, an order for the immediate formation of these districts was made by unanimous vote of the board.

A special tax will be added to the county rate to provide for the purchase of fire fighting apparatus and meeting other expenses incurred by these districts.

Funds from this tax will be available with the payment of the first installment of county taxes which will be in December, the remainder coming in with the second installment, due about April 1, 1924.

The special fire protection tax will probably be about 30 cents on the $100 assessed valuation in the La Crescenta valley district and 20 cents in the Tujunga-Sunland district.

This tax includes real property such as land, and its improvements, but no personal property.

In the La Crescenta valley district the real estate valuation is $1,600,370, which, with a 30 cent tax, would raise $4,801.11. In Tujunga-Sunland district the real estate valuation being $1,776,840. A tax of 20 cents would raise $3,522.

Officials of the county forestry department state the whole of these funds will be available for actual use in the respective districts, and no overhead will be deducted for supervisors by the county forestry officials.

Out of twenty-eight fire district petitions filed twenty were not protested, these districts being ordered formed. On petitions protested hearings were ordered continued till November 5.

To Hold Fireman's Ball

George Dunlap was instrumental in getting a bill passed regarding fire districts and protection for rural committees, and now this bill has become a law. The fire-fighters in these communities will not depend on what funds can be raised by popular subscription for recompense for their work, but will no doubt receive a stated amount per month for each fire.

In regard to this subject residents of the valley are requested not to forget the fireman's ball, to be held in the school auditorium, September 22, to raise the necessary funds to pay Fire Chief Young for the past six months' labor as fire chief.

Local and Personal

Mr. Sears has rented his stone grocery store on Los Angeles boulevard to a Mr. James of Washington, D. C. Mr. James has stocked the store with a splendid supply of new groceries and will also have a meat department for the benefit of his customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bains' who sold their home here last year to go to Seattle to live, have decided there is no place like California, and in no place like La Crescenta, So, have returned here to stay.

Fred Anderson, well known realtor, has recently purchased a new 10-acre tract on the northwest corner of Montrose and New York avenues from L. L. Vogel of Los Angeles. Mr. Anderson is subdividing the property and will place it on the market next week. The tract will practically be an extension of Honolulu Acres. Property in the vicinity is advancing so in value that Mr. Anderson is confident the new subdivision will move as rapidly and rise in value as quickly as did Honolulu acres.

LOCAL REALTY MAN NEAR DEATH IN TORREY PINES CRASH!

PERMITS NEEDED BY L. A. PUPILS

Those Wishing to Attend High School Here May Do So Under Contract

All former students from outside districts may return to the Glendale Union High school this fall, states George U. Moyse, principal, the contract relative to exchange of students having been signed by the Los Angeles and Glendale boards of education.

In addition, Eagle Rock students west of the north and south line following College View avenue south of Colorado boulevard and Windermere avenue north of Colorado boulevard will be admitted, together with students of the Atwater Park tract, who live on this side of the river, north as far as the Burbank city limits and south to Glorietta avenue.

Permits Necessary

All students from districts outside of Glendale will be required to present permits from the Los Angeles Board of Education, before they will be admitted to the Glendale Union High school, Mr. Moyse states; and their entrance will be provisional and subject to check.

All students presenting credits from other high schools will likewise be admitted to the local institution on a provisional basis, until their credits have been examined and found to be authentic.

Classes start promptly at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 12, the morning session running through until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, overlapping with the afternoon session, which starts at 12:05 o'clock and runs through until 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Half Day for Study

Students are urged by Mr. Moyse to take that last hour, from 4:40 until 5:30 o'clock, as it will presently be moved to an earlier position. He points out that the above schedule is on a one-session basis, those attending

Damp Dawn Brings News About Drive for Collection Realty Sale Profit Tax

By GIL A. COWAN

GOOD afternoon, folks. It was raining this morning. Yes'm, it was weeping every once in a while, just enough to keep some $13 a day plasterers from working; also enough to make the roads nice and slippy for automobiles.

And it was as gloomy as though the eclipse was playing a continuous performance. Not so good, says we—not so good when there is "nothing doing" in the way of news because of the weather.

But if a person looks around he is apt to find something exciting and here is what we dug up from the morning's mail—something that will give almost every resident in Glendale a thrill, if they have been talking too much about the profits they have made in real estate.

Forgot Realty Profits

Rex Goodcell, collector of internal revenue at Los Angeles, tells of a drive which he is starting this month—a drive is directed against taxpayers who neglected to include in income returns for 1920, 1921 and 1922, profit realized from the sale of real estate. Collector Goodcell believes that the failure of many taxpayers to include real estate profit in their returns was due to an erroneous interpretation of the revenue laws. He suggests that taxpayers who failed to report realty profits file an amended return. It will not be the policy of the revenue bureau to assert heavy penalties when the disclosure is voluntarily made by the taxpayer.

A check of the real estate transfers of the entire district has been made and these are now being checked against income returns filed for 1920, 1921 and 1922. Where the taxpayer does not voluntarily disclose items of profit that were omitted, full penalties must be asserted under the revenue laws. Prompt and voluntary action by taxpayers who have not declared their real estate profits will save them

Bowling Better Liked in Glendale Than Pool Playing

THREE new alleys are to be added to the Glendale Recreation club bowling facilities in the basement of Jensen's Palace Grand Arcade, reports Peter Neise, manager of the club, which has proved so popular with local lovers of the sport.

The alleys will be installed at once, and will be ready for the fall business, the plan being to have them in operation by October 1. They will supplant the row of pool tables that now occupies the right side of the large room.

With the five alleys already in operation, this will give Glendale bowlers eight of the highest type alleys on the Pacific coast, states Mr. Neise.

GOLF STOCKINGS BEING MADE HERE

One Industry Brings Another And All Grow Together As City Develops

A new industry and one that may assume large proportions has been added to Glendale's rapidly developing "industrial row"—the Home Knitting company, of 1827 East Vassar street, with E. O. Desselberger and Robert Van Gilse as partners in the enterprise.

The new concern manufactures high grade men's and women's wool, mohair and camel-hair hosiery, specializing in outing hose and golf stockings. With the Higgins-Huyck company, of 1012 South San Fernando road, manufacturing quality golf balls and clubs, and the Oakmont Country club nearing completion at Sparr Heights, guided by H. M. Parker, it begins to appear that Glendale is not to be lacking in any of the accoutrements of the popular Scotch sport.

Operate Five Machines

The Home Knitting company does not limit itself to golf stockings, however, turning out top grades of men's socks and women's hose in many styles and for practically every occasion, states Mr. Van Gilse, who points out that the five knitting machines employed at the present time will soon be supplemented by others.

"We hope to have twelve machines in operation by the first of the year," he states. "Our work is pleasant, non-hazardous and may well be done in the home, during spare time, affording women and girls splendid remuneration. We can grow large only as we gain public support of two kinds, workers to manufacture our goods and a market to consume them."

Getting Many Orders

Mr. Van Gilse states that in the three weeks the company has been operating, several gratifying orders have been obtained from Los Angeles department stores, and that a number of salesmen are now out. Goods are made to order, and the Home Knitting company turns out a product as truly tailored as a suit of clothes.

E. O. Desselberger is an expert knitter who understands thoroughly every phase of the business. It is under his direction that the workers will be trained, while Mr. Van Gilse will concentrate his attention on developing the markets.

Tells Detail of Work

The yarn we use is the very best obtainable and comes from Philadelphia," states Mr. Desselberger. "In knitting women's hose, we use 150 needles to the cylin-

Raymond L. Buell Is Visiting Sister Here

Raymond L. Buell, who is teaching in the department of government at Harvard university, has been a visitor this summer at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Allen, 717 East Windsor road. They are among the many who are attending the Egyptian Theatre presentation of "The Covered Wagon" tonight. Mr. Buell will leave soon for Cambridge, Mass., to again take up his work.

ALL OVER EXCEPT FOR NECK ACHE

Four Celebrations in One Feature Eclipse Day Here, 'Tis Said

Well, now it's all over—that is, all over but the lumbago and the neck ache and the mashed fenders! Fortunately, there wasn't much sunburn but, after all, the lotion will keep until next time. It's only a hundred years or so!

Everyone had a good time. The Native Sons and Daughters celebrated Admission Day. The Jewish people celebrated New Year's. The Bootleggers celebrated Fourth of July. Those who had no other affiliations celebrated the eclipse. A Scotchman we know celebrated all four. He knew it wouldn't cost any more!

All Sorts of Doings

Even the sun and the moon remembered Yom Kippur. It was some pass over! And, say, it was bargain day for the druggists. Estimates show that 500,000 boxes of headache powders passed over the counter, not to mention certain other things that passed over, while on the subject of holidays.

Our reporters left their copy in their machines and dashed to the street for a glimpse of the phenomenon. Our printers quit the ship and dashed into the back alley for a squint at the monster.

Bill was heard to say that the sun looked just like that one time last year, when his wife gave him a black eye! Our telephone operator dropped her glass and broke it while powdering her nose but got a good view of the eclipse through her fine-tooth comb! One of our staff refused to look at it, saying that the world needed men big enough not to be swayed from duty by mere manifestations of nature!

As we write the doctors' phones are all busy. Everyone wants them at once, either to remove the kink from their backs or the sunbeams from their eyes. The doctors are unable to make personal calls, but recommend moonshine lotion applied to the roof of the mouth and tonsils.

Hens Nod at Mid-day

Some say the hens nodded at mid-day and the roosters crowed as though it were dawn—but we know one woman who cooked supper instead of lunch, and then wondered why her "daddy" was so late in getting home! And, say, did you hear about Old Timer. He read in the paper about viewing the eclipse with "smoke glass"—so he loaded up the old corncob with crumbled silicon!

Business men reported the outlook as rather dull around noon, but expected things to brighten up considerably around 2 o'clock. And say, here's a good one, but mum's the word! Our star reporter started for San Diego in his new go-go—but he didn't get there, didn't see the eclipse and didn't get back! He reports that the air was very cool, sleeping by the roadside near Del Mar last night.

Seeing Some Sights

Others who set out to see the eclipse actually saw it, more or less. Some of them saw the things they were supposed to see, others saw quite different things. One rather hazy individual down near the Gateway was seen wandering around with what appeared to be a telescope—but what on closer observation proved to be a glass package, empty. With the reeking tube of the device pressed to his bleary optic, he was searching the heavens unsteadily for the solar occultation.

Finally he staggered up to us and demanded, with a grandiose sweep of the heavenly spaces, "Shay, whish eclipsh ish whish?"

Percy Morgan Family Take Glendale Home

Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Morgan, who came to the coast on Aug. 5 from Milwaukee, have chosen Glendale as their future home and with their children, Mary Jane, Virginia and Patricia, have taken occupancy of new residence property acquired at 1316 East California ave. Mr. Morgan is identified with the editorial department of The Evening Herald in Los Angeles.

Philemon Bevis and Family Find Glendale Ideal Homing Place

Mr. and Mrs. Philemon Bevis and son, A. L. Bevis, and daughter, Dorothy Bevis, have come to Glendale to make their home, arriving here one week ago. They are happily domiciled at 312 East Lomita avenue.

The elder Mr. Bevis formerly was general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at St. Louis, Mo., and he is here on one year's leave, but it is probable he will find Glendale a much better place to live.

With 11,000 members, a large clubhouse and seven different lines of activity to oversee Mr. Bevis has found his eleven years' experience in Y. M. C. A. work quite strenuous and he is glad to get the opportunity of resting. So his family picked Glendale as an ideal place in the southwest.

Miss Dorothy will be a student at Occidental college this coming year.

Breaks Leg in Fall From Oil Well Derrick

Lloyd Van Epps, son of Mrs. E. D. Johnson of 131 South Louise street, is in a Long Beach hospital for a two months' stay following an accident Sunday morning in the beach city oil fields, where he fell over eight feet from a derrick and broke his leg.

Mr. Van Epps, who has lived in Glendale most of his life, went to Long Beach several months ago to work in the oil fields. Sunday morning he was busy on a derrick and the rope he was depending on for support broke and he fell to the ground below.

In addition to a broken leg he received severe cuts on his head, but was fortunate in not being injured internally.

Michigan Folks Will Stage Annual Picnic

The annual fall reunion of the Michigan society is to be held all day Saturday, September 15, at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, according to a notice sent out by Dr. M. Parmele, the president of the association. Special events of various kinds are down on the program, and all the Wolverines in Southern California are invited to come and bring their basket dinners, prepared to have a big day of it.

Michiganders are advised that the state reunion will be held irrespective of any city, town or county picnics that may have been planned.

AUTO LEAPS OFF SAN DIEGO ROAD

Luther J. Dannel Receives Internal Injuries; Irvin Ullrich Also Hurt

INJURED internally when the car in which he was riding home from San Diego yesterday struck a wet spot on the road just south of Torrey Pines, and turned over three times, Luther J. Dannel, 912 North Pacific avenue, Glendale, employed in the offices of Hayward & McCartney, realtors, 142 South Brand boulevard, was taken to a San Diego hospital for treatment, where his condition is pronounced serious.

In the same car with him were Irvin Ullrich, 315 North Isabel, who suffered laceration of the scalp and face, and Willis Howe, 912 North Pacific avenue, had a miraculous escape from injury or death as the automobile turned over.

Dannel is to be operated upon today and it is stated that his injuries will confine him to bed for several months. Ullrich is able to return to his home today and his recovery will be a matter of a comparatively short time.

Howe, on his trip home from San Diego this morning, counted fifteen wrecks of automobiles along the route, five of them resulting from head-on collisions.

Before becoming associated with Hayward & McCartney, Mr. Dannel was a member of the sales force in Webb's Men's Shop at 105 South Brand boulevard. He has a wide acquaintance here who will express sorrow at his misfortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Fawkes Home From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fawkes and daughter Shirley have returned to Glendale after a delightful seven weeks' trip which took them to the Canadian Rockies and back. Mr. Fawkes is the proprietor of the Rollin' Pin bake shop at 218 East Broadway and he reports that no place seemed quite so good to him as Glendale.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

Diet in Disorders of the Skin, No. II

Hives (Uticaria)—Who hasn't had hives at some period in his life? Hives is such a well known sport of childhood that no description is needed. Strawberries, meat, pork, shell fish and coffee are the most frequent offenders.

Just as in some forms of eczema in hives some irritation of the digestive tract has lowered its efficiency so that certain food products enter the circulation in an unfit state to be used by the system. As these come to the skin a spasm of the blood vessel walls occurs, and the fluid part of the blood and the white corpuscles go through the blood vessel walls into the tissues. This is what causes the white swellings, or wheals, and the itching which characterizes hives.

Some English investigators have thought that daring a spell of hives there is a deficiency of lime salts in the blood. This permits the blood to go through the vessel walls more readily.

The treatment for hives is to get the intestinal membrane in working order again. A dose of castor oil, or some other physic, followed by a diet of bread and milk—or, better, shredded wheat biscuits or triscuits—for a day or two will do the work. (It may work without the physic.) This diet will furnish plenty of lime as well as other needed elements. Sometimes an exclusive fruit juice diet is also effective. The diet should be gradually brought back to normal.

Acne—Acne is one of the most common of the skin disorders. It is especially prevalent at puberty and at adolescence.

Different investigators have found that a rod-shaped germ, which they have called bacillus acne, is always associated with acne. As in other parasitic disorders, there are some special conditions which favor the growth of the parasites.

During adolescence and puberty, there is a great developmental activity of all the tisues of the body. There may be an overproduction of the skin oil (sebum) at this time, and this excess oil may harden in the skin and form plugs which block the pores; and then acne germs and other skin germs multiply under them, causing an inflammation and pus.

You can see from this that keeping the blackheads from forming would be a part of the treatment. Boys suffer more from acne than girls, because, as a rule, they don't keep their faces so clean. Tomorrow I shall tell you how to keep the blackheads from forming, and how to treat acne when it does develop.

HOUSEKEEPER GETS BIG FORTUNE

'Devoted' To Importer, She Is Rewarded

Mrs. Elsa Lincke, housekeeper, who gets $500,000 from estate of importer

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Years ago Mrs. Elsa Lincke went into the household of Hugo Lange, wealthy importer, as a housekeeper.

Though the task might be termed menial, hers was a high sense of duty and as the days, weeks and months passed into years Mrs. Lincke performed her duties most painstakingly.

Maintaining the home of the elderly importer, anticipating his every wish and providing every comfort were her only thoughts.

And Lange was not unappreciative of her endeavors.

He died recently and in his will was a bequest of $500,000 to Mrs. Lincke whom he termed his "devoted housekeeper."

But now after all these years of patient and solicitous service she faces a bitter fight for the possession of the reward of her duty, well done.

Brothers of the deceased importer are battling to break the will by which Lange sought to show his appreciation in death of the kindly little favors she had done him in life.

Beauty Chats

by Edna Kent Forbes

ANSWERED LETTERS

May: The roughness of the skin of the upper arms and legs seems to be a tendency that is natural in some families. But it can be relieved, and often entirely overcome, by using a bath brush when bathing, and by taking special baths, such as that of sea water or Turkish baths.

The oatmeal bags you mention would also be helpful, or you may substitute bran for the oatmeal. In either case the meal is uncooked, and some powdered Castile soap added to it. The proportions are one cupful of meal to a teaspoonful of the soap. The bags may be made of cheese cloth and used just like a wash cloth. They take the place of soap.

Eliza M. N.: It may be that you are underweight which causes the veins in your hands to be so pronounced. If this is so build up your system by taking more nourishment in foods that are easily assimilated, such as milk, or milk and eggs taken together.

Bultons: If your cleansing cream is made up of vegetable oils, or even mineral oil, it will be all right to use it as a basis for holding the powder. A skin that is as dry as yours should be given a light massage every day. Use in addition a nourishing cream made from good vegetable oils, such as almond or olive. Your skin will improve under such treatment so these defects, that bother you now, will disappear.

Worried: Use peroxide on the hair on your hands and arms. This will bleach it so it will not be noticed. If this does not appeal to you, the only alternative is to remove it regularly with a depilatory. For excessive perspiration in the armpits bathe with water softened with ammonia or powdered borax; dry thoroughly and dust with a powder that is made by mixing together four ounces of talcum powder and one-half of an ounce of powdered alum. Add any perfume that you prefer.

Edna: To break yourself of the nail-biting habit paint some "bitter aloes" under the tips. This is quite harmless both to your nails and stomach, and the only reason for using it is to remind you of your resolution each time you forget.

With dark auburn hair and a fair skin your colors will be green, brown, yellow and cream color. Black velvet is also very becoming to such types, making a good choice for hats when possible.

Peaches and Cream: The tooth that turned black since it was filled looks as if the nerve had died, so whether or not you detest a dentist you will make more trouble for yourself if you do not consult one now.

Mrs. P. B.—"Please publish a recipe for Mint Sauce to serve with meats. If there is a charge for this, kindly state the amount."

Answer—There is never a charge for any help that I can give my readers. Here is the recipe: Hot Mint Sauce: Boil one-half pint of vinegar till it is reduced one-half, then add to it one and one-half tablesmoons of brown sugar, one-half cup of water, a pinch of salt and two tablespoons of finely chopped tender young spearmint. Bring to boiling point, and serve. Here is a recipe for Cold Mint Sauce: Wash one cup of tender green spearmint then chop it fine and crush into it one-half cup of brown sugar. Let stand fifteen minutes, then add one cup of vinegar and one teaspoon of salt. Let stand one hour before serving. (Especially good on lamb.) If you cannot obtain fresh green mint ask your grocer for the dried mint which comes in small packages, inexpensively. If he does not carry it write to me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply, and will gladly send you the name of a New York firm which will sell dried mint by mail.

Worried Mother—"Kindly let me know how to get rid of bed bugs. I have them in only one bed. Is it true that some people breed them?"

Answer—The best way is to spray gasoline on bed, frame and mattress. Gasoline is inflammable, however, so must not be used near heat or flame. A reader of this column recently sent me the following formula, which I believe is equally as good as gasoline—perhaps better: —"Persian Powder and Borax mixed together in equal parts and applied by means of a powder gun will exterminate bed bugs It is perfectly harmless to everything but the bugs." If it were my bed, and the bugs had not yet spread to the walls of the room, I would be strongly tempted to get rid of the mattress and springs, if these measures fail. For, bed bugs are very persistent and extremely hard to get rid of. No, it is not true that some people breed them.

A Reader—"I have found it impossible to buy a rocker and straight chair, in my vicinity, to go with a birdseye maple bedroom set. Could you tell me how to cover chairs with cretonne, to be used in place of the maple?"

Answer—Why don't you buy a willow or wicker straight chair and rocker, and decorate these with back-pad and seat-pad of cretonne? It is imposible to tell you how to cover an entire chair with cretonne. You would have to be shown how.

On the Spur of the Moment

THE TIPPER

He traveled round the country and he tipped where'er he went,
And he was nearly always
"broke," or else was badly bent.
He tipped the chair car porter and the boy who lugged his grip;
In fact, there wasn't any one whom this man didn't tip.
He tipped the hotel porter and each time he pushed the bell,
He tipped the old hack driver who took him to the hotel;
He tipped the bellhop handsomely
because he knew he must.
He knew that he was up against the tip receivers' trust.
He tipped the cafe waiter and he
tipped the bus boy, too,
The leader of the orchestra and all his merry crew;
He tipped the car conductors and
he tipped the corner cop;
He'd got the tipping habit so he really couldn't stop.
He tipped the auto scorcher who ran over him one day—
They took him on a basket to the hospital straightaway.
Before the operation he produced
his friendly purse,
He thought he simply had to tip
the doctor and the nurse.
When he had reached the other shore his terror it was great,
He had no coin with which to tip
St. Peter at the gate.

I have heard of a beautiful city on an isle in an ocean of gold. Where it is I can't say (what a pity!), but it's there—and a million years old. There the birds always sing and the flowers with petals knee deep strew the ground. The inhabitants dwell in bright bowers, for it's summer there all the year round. They labor not, nor do they worry. They wear but a rose and a smile. They know not what means it to hurry. They're restful and glad all the while. When they're hungry they pluck a banana and wash down the "bite" with a drink of nectar, and trust to "manyana"; but further—it hurts 'em to think. For breakfast ice cream trimmed with candy is all that these islanders eat. It's bracing, they say, and is dandy and fine—counteracting the heat. For luncheon it's humming-bird giblets, for dinner it's orchids in dew, and then the siesta. Their riblets quite naturally never stick through. But the isle of my dreams elysian, for away from all world care and harm, disappears when my wife wrecks my vision with "Hike out! There goes the alarm!"

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of fifteen. I have a boy friend of whom I think a lot. He takes me to our own basketball games in town, but mother does not allow me to stay out at night. He is very nice looking and has a good reputation.

When I say that I think a lot of him I do not mean that I am in love, as I do not care to be in love at such an early stage in life. He says he loves me and I honestly believe he does, but I do not care to talk about love yet. What shall I tell him?

Christmas he gave me a beautiful and expensive present. I gave him my photo in return. He also gave me a lovely box of candy for my birthday. Not long ago I noticed that he did not have a scarf such as the boys are wearing and so I bought one and gave it to him. Did I do right?

Do you think I am too young to go out of town with him to ball games?

At what time do you think I should be in when it is not on a school night?

Please tell me how I may entertain my girl friend, her boy friend and mine, besides visiting, playing cards and making candy.

QUESTION BOX.

Tell the boy that you are too young to think and talk of love, and therefore you want him to regard you as a friend and to stop talking of love. Since he is probably very young himself, he would show better judgment if he waited a few years before he declared his love.

There is nothing particularly wrong in giving the boy a scarf, since you did it from the kindness of your heart. It is considered better taste, however, to give very few, if any, presents to boys. The gift on Christmas or his birthday would have been all right, although I usually advise merely a greeting or book on such occasions.

Yes, you are too young to go out of town with the boy to ball games.

You are too young to be out later than 10 o'clock, and even that is a late hour for a little girl of fifteen.

Sometimes young people are musical and spend the evening playing the piano and singing. If such a plan does not appeal to you, you might read a short story. If you want game suggestions, get a book on the subject at the library.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married man and find myself falling in love with a young lady in my office. The worst of it is that I cannot stop thinking about her when I am at home. She works well and doesn't do anything to make me care for her. Therefore I feel cheap to get rid of her. What would you advise me to do?

MARRIED MAN.

The only safe way is for you to get rid of the girl. Perhaps you can secure a good position for her with some friend. At least you can tell her that you find you must let her go, but will give her a good recommendation.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: If you were a man and a girl pretended to care for you, and went with another man with a machine, and never told the truth except by accident, changed her mind with every change of the moon, if she flirted with other men while riding with you, made promises only to break them, made appointments she never would fill, and talked from morning to night to twenty-four boys at least, what would you do?

DESPERATE.

It is easy to see what you ought to do. You ought to drop the girl and find peace of mind with some one else. Probably her very indifference whets your interest and makes you desire her even more than as though she were desirable.

Poems That Live

STAY, O SWEET

Stay, O sweet, and do not rise!
The light that shines comes from thine eyes;
The day breaks not: it is my heart,
Because that you and I must part.
Stay! or else my joys will die,
And perish in their infancy.

'Tis true, 'tis day: what though it be?
O wilt thou therefore rise from me?
Why should we rise because 'tis
light?
Did we lie down because 'twas
light?
Save which in spite of darkness
brought us hither,
Should in despite of light keep us together.

Light hath no tongue, but is all eye.
If it could speak as well as spy,
This were the worst that it could say:
That, being well, I fain would stay,
And that I lov'd my heart and honor so,
That I would not from him that had them go.

Must business thee from hence remove?
Oh, that's the worst disease of love!
The poor, the fool, the false love can
Admit, but ot the busied man.
He, which hath business and makes love, doth do
Such wrong, as when a married man doth woo.

Dinner Stories

Old Paterson had been seen home by his friends at a very late hour on the previous night, says the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

They had both been to a lodge dinner or they might have had very important business that had detained them to a late hour, but that does not matter. They had arrived home late; that had been the unpleasant point at the time. Old Highum had pushed Paterson gently in at the front door and had left him.

The following morning the two old friends met. There was anxiety on Highum's face. He was a bachelor and it did not matter what time he reached home at night; but, greatly as he respected Mrs. Paterson, he shared her husband's fear of her.

"Did your wife read you a lesson last night when you came home" Highum asked.

"No; I managed to deceive her," answered Paterson, in high glee. "I stood in the hall an hour, delivered a lecture on civic righteousness, told a bedtime story and sang three grand opera selections. She thought she had forgotten to turn off the radio loud speaker."

PAINT

Armour Against the Beating Sun

GIVE your property the protection it deserves. Select a paint that is hardy enough to withstand our local climate.

Such a paint is Patton's Sun Proof, which we handle and recommend. Its unusual elasticity prevents the cracking and peeling caused by the broiling summer sun. Sun Proof Paint will truly "Save the Surface."

It is economical too, covering an unusually large surface per gallon.

Tell us about your paint requirements. We will supply you with a good brush and the proper paint or varnish.

TODAY—Would Isolate Criminals; A New Sociological Theory.
TOMORROW—Germany No Longer Playground; Price Steadily Climbing. —By Minott Saunders, of Berlin Staff.

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE
For International News Service

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—Now comes the startling suggestion by two men prominent in Los Angeles scientific circles that virtually 2 per cent of the entire population of the United States should be "banished" from its usual haunts and securely isolated as a solution of crime conditions.

Such was the revelation made in an advance copy of "Crime," Abnormal Minds and the Law," by Ernest Bryant Hoag and Edward Huntington Williams.

The 2 per cent is declared to represent the fixed ratio of criminals to the rest of society since the beginning of time.

Both of these men are physicians with sociological leanings and prominent in the ranks of the nation's best criminologists. However, in the case of Williams his collaboration in the most recent work marks him the author of thirty-two books dealing with scientific subjects.

"The control of crime, which is now sweeping the world, cannot be brought about through popular demands for additional police, better prisons, more hangings, probation, self-government of prisoners, indeterminate sentences, moral or any kind of education." Such is one of the generalizations that preface the book, which is heartily endorsed by Henry H. Goddard, internationally known psychologist and sociologist.

Declaring that the entire problem is an eugenic rather than a legal one, and that the potential criminal and delinquent child are now reconcilable early in life, the statement is made that failure to control crime or to change criminals is, in a large part, due to misconceptions of fundamental causes responsible for them.

Criminals have often been said to be socially unadaptable individuals when surrounded by modern complex social conditions. The practical solution of this is said to be in determining their degree of responsibility and social adaptability, and in segregating, under wholesome self-supporting conditions, those who are permanently unfit for coping with the outside world.

The outstanding meaning of the two men's endeavor is to eliminate the Mikado-ism of "making the punishment to fit the crime," with a more humane and practical solution.

'Most Beautiful Girl In Seattle' Is Honored

America Chelister, most beautiful girl in Seattle, to go on stage

America Chelister, selected by artists as the most beautiful girl in Seattle, Wash., has been chosen as a member of the cast for the coming production of the Greenwich Village Follies, and will make her Broadway debut shortly. Miss Chelister is a niece of General Albert Sidney Johnston, hero of the Battle of Shiloh, during the Civil war.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RED EAR

"Well," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as she walked toward Uncle Wiggily, "it only needs one thing now."

"What only needs one thing " asked the bunny rabbit gentleman. "Are you speaking of the carrot pedding, and does it need a raisin in to make it sweet,"

"Nothing of the sort!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "What I mean is that our sitting room needs just one thing more to make it look very pretty. And that one thing is something to hang over the fireplace."

"Why don't you hang a picture there?" asked Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose.

"A picture isn't just the thing —not nearly stylish enough," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "What I want is something odd—something entirely different—something of a rich, red color to make the room bright and cheerful."

"I'll see if I can find anything," promised the bunny rabbit.

"Where are you going?" asked Nurse Jane, as she saw Uncle Wiggily hopping away.

"I am going to look for an adventure," he answered. "And while I am looking for that I may find you something odd to hang over the fireplace."

"I hope you do," spoke Nurse Jane, as the bunny gentleman hopped away. Over the fields and through the woods he went until he saw a big stone, colored blue. The big, blue stone was stuck in the side of a sand hill.

"That is something odd, and yet pretty," thought the bunny. "But it isn't red, and it is too large for Nurse Jane to hang over the mantel fireplace. I must look farther."

So he hopped on, and pretty soon he saw a tall green tree, that Santa Claus might use when Christmas came.

"That is very wonderful, and odd enough," thought the bunny rabbit. "But it is too large for Nurse Jane to hang over the mantel fireplace. Besides, it is green, not red. I must look farther."

So he hopped on, over hill and dale, and soon he reached a field where a farmer had planted some corn. The corn had grown tall and was now ripe, many ears hanging from the stalks. The sun glinted on a red ear, the bright kernels peeping from their covering of husk.

"Ah! A red ear of corn! The very thing for Nurse Jane!" exclaimed the bunny gentleman, with a jolly twinkle of his pink nose. "A red ear of corn is just the right size, and it is odd and pretty enough to hang over the mantel fireplace. I'll take this red ear home to Nurse Jane."

The bunny gentleman gnawed the red ear off the stalk and started to hop to his hollow stump bungalow. But he had not gone very far before, all of a sudden, out from under a sassafras bush popped the Fox!

"Oh, ho! and oh, ha!" snickered the Fuzzy Fox. "I am just in time, I see "

"Time for what?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Time to nibble your ears!" snarled the Fox.

"Which ear are you going to nibble?" asked the bunny.

"Well, you only have two ears," said the Fox, looking sharply at

"Ah! A red ear of corn!"

Uncle Wiggily. "First I will nibble your right ear, then I will nibble your left ear, and in that way I shall nibble both ears. You only have two, you know."

"Ah, that is where you made a mistake," laughed the bunny. "I have three ears."

"Three ears. I never heard of such a thing," howled the Fox. "Where have you three ears? I only see two!"

"I have two ears on my head," said Uncle Wiggily, "and here I have a red ear—an ear of corn. And I am going to bang you on the nose with this red ear, if you will kindly excuse me for saying so."

With that Uncle Wiggily raised the long, hard ear of red corn and he brought it down "ker-bunko" on the nose of the Fox.

"Oh, wow!" howled the Fuzzy Fox. "Yes, you have three ears surely enough. Oh, woe is me! I didn't know you had so many! Oh, my nose! My nose!" and away he ran as fast as he could go. So he didn't nibble any ears after all. And Nurse Jane said the red ear of corn was just right for hanging over the mantel, where it looked most artistic.

And if the baby mosquito doesn't bore a hole in the gold fish tank so the water runs all over the pussy cat's tail, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Pine tree.

BILLY WHISKERS

by FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy ran out on the polo grounds yesterday, caught the ball in his mouth and carried it to the goal.

Cheer after cheer went up from the benches, and the winners called out, "Bully for the goat! He shall be our mascot!"

Their opponents, however, objected to losing the game in this way, and insisted that the last play be gone over again and Billy put off the grounds. So the ball was put back just where Billy had picked it up and the players took their old positions, and the game went on while poor enthusiastic Billy was led to the gate and put outside with faithful Nannie following. As the goats were put off the grounds, they were given into the hands of a guard, who was instructed to put the two goats outside the exposition grounds, which he did.

The minute they were outside, Billy said, "Hurry, Nan! I am going to run around and go back into the Fair through the hole we crawled through when I butted that cad off the fence." And presently Billy and Nannie were back again, watching the finish of the polo game.

The side in which Billy was so interested won and then Billy began to baah and baah his joy, since he could show it in no other way.

"Well, I'll be blessed," said the captain of one of the teams, "if there isn't that goat that we just put out back in the field; I am going to find out if I can't buy him. He is a magnificent specimen of goathood and smarter than brass tacks, I should say."

The captain hunted and hunted, trying to find Billy's owner, but no one seemed to have even seen the goat, let alone knowing to whom he belonged. So he decided he would just take Billy home with him and let his owner hunt him up, but when he returned to the polo grounds no goat was in sight, and look where he would, no trace of him was to be found. Had he looked just outside the hole in the fence he would have seen him peacefully sleeping and enjoying an afternoon nap after the excitement of the game.

Tomorrow's chapter tells what they saw next at the exposition.

TIMELY VIEWS & WORLD TOPICS

"U. S. IS BOUND UP IN PRESENT EUROPEAN CRISIS," SAYS GEN. ALLEN

"The interests of the United States are inevitably bound up in the present crisis in Europe," said Gen. Henry T. Allen, former commander of the United States forces on the Rhine, in a recent speech.

"It has been estimated that one-half the population of the United States is engaged in lines of production absolutely dependent upon foreign markets for our surplus production. Europe has always been our best market. It, therefore, follows that this great economic struggle is seriously interfering with our business relations and prosperity. The human phase must appeal to all of us.

"At the present time the salaried and professional classes of a large part of central Europe are unable to furnish such sustenance for themselves as is compatible with a normal physical living, nor are they able to purchase a modicum of meat required by their growing children.

"These thoughts, involving commercial and human welfare, force an interest in European affairs by our country.

"In our much vaunted aloofness from Europe, where crises are impending that may wreck western civilization, we seem to say that is is not our affair and salve our conscience with that thought. Were the American people fully abreast of the horrors awaiting Europe and the irreparable injuries that must be ours by chaos on the Continent they would force action while there may yet be time. In spite of our present prosperity we are suffering from limitations of our trade by reason of the great impasse.

U. S. at Fault

"Our responsibility is great. Our failure to ratify the treaty that would have been willingly modified by the other signatories to suit our requirements, has left us in default in the eyes of Europe, and our refusal to accept the defense promised France in the tripartite arrangement leaves us in special default with her.

"Regardless of the political reasons that brought about our action, or non-action, the fact remains that the present European impasse could not have happened had we participated in winning the peace. Our participation could not be considered as injecting ourselves into European affairs, but as answering a call of distress.

"Under present conditions we are permitting a large and important part of the world to see us in a disorder that may sooner or later force our participation when the period of counsel and conference is past.

"The essential of relief must be found in a national security for France, reasonable reparations and the consideration for state pride on both sides. Germany wants to give France that security.

"The present great venture is costing France dearly and the chief solace she gets must be in the fact that her traditional enemy is paying more dearly.

"However strong may be the the demands of party exigencies there comes a time when statesmanship and public welfare demand first consideration. Such a moment has arrived. This is not a time when party welfare should take precedence over the very serious demands made by a national and world welfare."

"EUROPE ON VERGE OF ANOTHER WAR RIGHT NOW," SAYS SENATOR SMOOT

Another war may break in Europe, and unless prompt steps are taken to avert it, it will not be long deferred, declares Senator Reed Smoot (Republican, Utah), just back from Europe.

Like Senator Hiram Johnson, Senator George H. Moses and Senator Smith W. Brookhart, the Utah senator returned from abroad with a pessimistic picture of economic and political conditions.

Senator Smoot went to Europe at the behest of President Harding to study Germany's income before the war, her present income, and the cost of her present government, with a view to working out her ability to pay her reparations bill. Germany, he said, is on the verge of revolution, and unless there is some immediate relief it will come before winter.

Senator Smoot said he hoped America could remain free of European entanglements, in view of what he had seen. Asked if he wanted to see America enter the world court, he answered that it would not be possible with the court in its present form.

"With the modifications suggested by the late President Harding," he said, "the United States could, I believe, become a member and could exercise helpful influence in restoring the European situation."

He said it was possible, in his opinion, for the troubled countries of Europe "to set their own houses in order," but to accomplish this they must bend every energy to the task at once. Otherwise, Europe faces certain war.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

EARL OF BIRKENHEAD

The Earl of Birkenhead, one of Great Britain's outstanding figures, up to the fall of David Lloyd George, is now visiting in the United States. He will attend the sessions of the Political Institute at Williamstown, Mass.

VISCOUNT BURKENHEAD

Lord Birkenhead still holds an important post in England as one of the lords of appeal of the so-called judicial committee of the privy council, which is practically the supreme tribunal of the British empire.

He is very often the presiding officer of the House of Lords. He also holds the post of high steward of the University of Oxford. He draws an annual salary of $25,000 for life.

Lord Birkenhead was called a Conservative until Conservative "die hards" joined Sir George Younger in the effort to unseat David Lloyd George, when the earl bolted and sided with his chief, who is given credit for placing the earl high in officialdom.

Since then Lord Birkenhead has been one of the most severe critics of the Baldwin administration. At first his attacks were delivered from the Conservative side of the house. Later he moved to the Liberals' benches.

Lord Birkenhead's father was a member of the British bar. The younger Birkenhead virtually earned his education by winning scholarship prizes galore. He cornered fellowship prizes at Oxford. After graduation he remained as a lecturer until he began practice at the bar.

When Britain went into the war Lord Birkenhead was made censor of the press, the most dangerous post created for war reasons.

Then for eight months he served at the front with distinction.

When the coalition administration was formed in the summer of 1915 he was made attorney general of the realm and retained this post when Lloyd George became premier. The earl still held this seat when he came to the United States the last time, in 1921.

The name Birkenhead is taken from his native town situated in Cheshire on the river Mersey.

COUGHS DISTURB SCHOOL WORK

School teachers should give the same advice to children who have coughs as did this Florida teacher. "I recommend FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR to the children in my school who had the 'flu' and good results came whenever it was used," writes Mrs. L. Armstrong, Okeechobee, Florida. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates. Ingredients printed on the wrapper. Quickly relieves colds, coughs and croup.

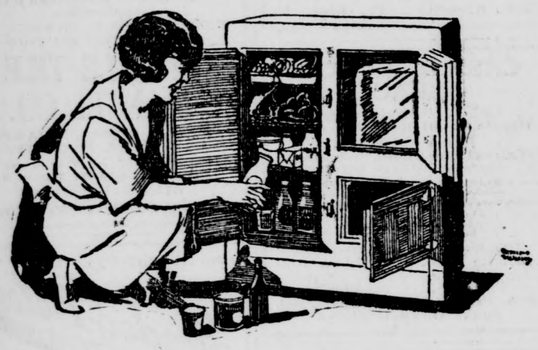
In explaining the choice of Glendale as a location for developing their industry, Mr. Van Gilse and Mr. Desselberger state that they surveyed the territory thoroughly, choosing this city because of its central location, making it close to both labor and markets, and ideal as a wide-awake community which will grow as they grow.



How to Place Food in a Refrigerator

By properly placing the various kinds of food in your refrigerator, you can prevent the circulating air from mingling food odors unpleasantly.

Bottled liquids should be placed on the floor of the refrigerator; and butter, lard, cream and milk on the lowest shelf. Tender vegetables and fruits should be on the top shelf, while meats and similar foods are placed on the intermediate shelves.

Of course, the most important rule is to keep your refrigerator always well filled with ice, every month in the year. That is your best protection against spoiled food and sickness.

EAGLE ROCK

BANK WILL BUILD NEW BRICK HOME

Stone And Marble Front Will Lend Imposing Air to New Structure

The Eagle Rock skyline is to be adorned by a brick structure at the corner of Myrtle and Central avenues, shortly, to be erected by Contractor Ferdon as the new home of the Eagle Rock State bank.

The building will occupy the entire corner from Myrtle to the Masonic hall. The bank has leased for ten years the offices at the corner of Central and Myrtle. Other stores on the main floor will be leased, and a number of apartments will be available above.

A stone and marble front will make the structure one of the finest in appearance in the community and worthy to be the home of the Eagle Rock State bank, in the opinion of President Page of that institution, who states that the capitalization of the bank will be increased by $50,000 so that its business may be legitimately expanded in its new quarters.

Japanese Relief

The unused balance of World war relief funds will be used by the Eagle Rock branch of the Pasadena chapter, American Red Cross, as the nucleus for Japanese relief, states W. J. Cook, chairman of the local organization.

"It is desirable that these funds be materially increased at the earliest possible moment," he says. "Donaions, in any amount whatever, may be left at the Security Trust & Savings bank, in charge of Mr. Biles."

The Eagle Rock Red Cross made such a splendid showing during the war that it is felt by Mrs. W. D. Ong, secretary, and others, that residents of that community will not fail to respond in this emergency with help for stricken Nippon.

W. C. T. U. Active

In a drive for members, Eagle Rock Unionists point out that their organization has for its aim other things than attempting to prevent the drinking of alcoholic beverages.

Among the activities of the local chapter are: support of the Southern California Home for Women, 215 East Avenue 57, Highland Park; a girls' home in the W. C. T. U. temple, together with campaigns for child welfare, Christian citizenship, Americanization, social morality, missionary endeavor and other similar lines.

Dues received from local members support five organizations; the local, county, state, national and world W. C. T. U.

School Opens Tomorrow

Tots short and tall will toddle along to school tomorrow morning, September 11, as of yore, classes beginning in all the local schools at 8:30 o'clock. To some this announcement brings joy, no doubt, and to others orrow.

An exception is made in that Jewish children, on account of Yom Kippur, will not be required to report to school until Wednesday, September 12.

The Seventh-day Adventists have rented the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse for a period of three months, while their new building is being erected on Myrtle avenue, near Central avenue, and will hold their services there Saturday mornings and Thursday nights, it is onnounced.

in the morning having their afternoon off, and vice versa.

Students are strongly advised by Mr. Moyse not to regard this half day free from studies as a work period, but rather as a study session, the only difference being that instead of the study being conducted at school, as in the past, the pupils are sent home to prepare their lessons for the next day, a condition that will be eliminated upon completion of the new high school.

WANTS TAG FOR BABY

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Request that his baby be registered and a tag issued to him was made by a man of foreign birth, who called at the office of Prosecutor Herbert W. Mitchell. The prosecutor is trying to learn what law confused the man.

People will think twice before they jump across a ditch, yet, without thinking, will plunge head first against a stone wall.

Damp Dawn Brings News of Tax Drive

thousands of dollars in penalties, revenue officials declared.

Prosperity Record

Another bit of more or less pleasant news from the same source tells about the collection of the third installment of income taxes which will be due September 15. Forty thousand taxpayers are meeting their annual tax bill on the part-payment plan. More than one hundred and ninety thousand met their taxes in full on March 15. It is not believed that any other internal revenue district in the United States holds such a record.

Collector Goodcell pointed out that when 190,000 out of a total of 230,000 income taxpayers cover their taxes in one payment when they have the option of quarterly installments, it certainly testifies to the sound financial condition of southern California.

The full amount of tax owing automatically becomes due, and Collector Goodcell must, under the income tax laws, proceed to collect it with penalties added, if the third installment is not paid by September 15.

If a man can blush from shame he has not reached the lowest level.

Crop Reporting Board Gives Sept. 1 Estimate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture today made the following estimates of the principal crops of the country as of September 1:

Corn, condition 83.3, as compared with 78.6, September 1, 1922.

Total estimated production 3,076,000,000 bushels as compared with 2,891,000,000 bushels December 1922. Yield per acre 29.8 bushels.

Spring wheat, condition 65.1, as compared with 80.1 September 1, 1922.

Total production 221,000,000 bushels as compared with 276,000,000 December 1922. Yield per acre 11.9.

All wheat, condition 71.6 as compared with 75.5, September 1922.

Total production 789,000,000 bushels, as compared with 862,000,000 bushels, December, 1922.

JAPANESE THANKFUL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Secretary of State Hughes has received a cablegram from Premier Yamamoto of Japan, extending the thanks of the Japanese people for the assistance rendered by the United States since the quake.

Christianity Basis Of Efficient Life

"Christianity lies back of an efficient moral life," asserted Rev. Philip K. Kemp Sunday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church.

"The Apostle Paul was not only a great missionary and organizer but a man of intense practical vision who felt the needs of every day life," he explained. "He had gone through a great struggle to reach the firm ground of moral certainty. He was convinced that to walk in the spirit of Christ was the only way to security.

"Paul's philosophy is sound psychology for he argues: "Don't open yourself to temptation merely to see how far you can go unscathed. Men like to test themselves to find out their power of resistance. As Phillips Brooks once said God only helps you to overcome those temptations which you meet in the course of duty.

"The controlling power of your life must be the great positive power of Christ which is superior to the negative force of evil. This is the help which religion offers us in a practical world. In every endeavor of life we test men by their results. Religion gives us a nobler, better, higher life."

When we covet another's pleasing manners we are not likely to be jealous.
